LAD SUCCUMBS AT HOSPITAL; RITES PLANNED

Funeral Services Will Be Held Saturday at Emanuel Lutheran Church

SKULL FRACTURED

Driver Exonerated of All Blame in Accident Tuesday Night

Clarence Moore, eight-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Isaac Moore, 329 Waterloo-st, injured about 9 o'clock Tuesday night on Uncapher-av, when he ran directly in the path of an automobile being driven by J. A. Sauer, 850 Woodrow-av, died at 5:45 o'clock yesterday afternoon at City Hospital.

The lad was thrown to the street, striking the back of his head, resulting in a fracture of his skull, attending physicians stated.

Sauer was exonerated from blame by witnesses. The boy had run directly in front of the car, headed north, with the words, "Come on, mother, let's go home," witnesses said. Sauer had just driven around a belling party and, although he saw the boy, had supposed he would remain on the curb with his mother until the car passed, he told police.

Last Rites Saturday

The body was removed to the M. H. Gunder Funeral Home and will be taken to the parents' home, 329 Waterloo-st, at 5 o'clock this afternoon. Funeral services will be held at Emanuel Lutheran Church at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon with Rev. J. W. Schillinger, pastor, officiating. Burial will be in Marion Cemetery.

The child was born in Logan, O., Jan. 22, 1919. His parents also were both born in Logan, his mother having been formerly Miss Margaret Myers. The child was a pupil of the second grade at the Davids Street School and was a member of the Lutheran Church.

Surviving with his parents are a sister, Lillian, 6, and a brother, Harold, 2, and a grandmother, Mrs. Anna Myers of Logan.

MAGICIANS SELECT LIMA FOR NEXT CONVENTION

W. W. Durbin, Kenton, Re-elected President of International Brotherhood

Kenton, June 9—Lima was selected as the 1928 convention city of the International Brotherhood of Magicians in session here this morning and W. W. Durbin, of this city, selected as president for a second term.

Durbin in his address of acceptance assured the brotherhood that he would raise the membership during the coming year to 2,500. This past year it has increased from 600 to 1,700.

Harry Blackstone, Howard Thurston and Frederick Eugene Powell were elected as vice presidents. Ernest K. Schleidge was named secretary and Warner Dornfield, publicity director. Members of the executive committee are Arthur D. Gans, McDonald Birch, Carl S. Lohrney, Arthur Felsman and Jesse Lybarger.

Dates of the convention are to be set by President Durbin and the executive committee.

WHEAT CROP TO FALL BELOW RECENT YEARS

Washington, June 9—The American wheat crop this year will fall considerably below recent years, Secretary of Agriculture Jardine told President Coolidge today at the White House.

Jardine, who has just returned from a swing around the wheat belt, said the government report to be issued late today would show an even greater reduction than the 35,000,000 bushels shrinkage estimated in the last government report.

EAGLES TO OPERATE OWN TRAIN TO YOUNGSTOWN

Members of Local Lodge and Friends To Attend State Convention

A special Erie train, to be entirely operated by members of the Eagles' Lodge, will be run between here and Youngstown, Wednesday, June 22, for members of the lodge and their guests, wishing to attend the state convention, it was announced at a meeting of members of the local lodge last night at Eagles' Hall.

The train will leave here at 6 o'clock Wednesday morning, and leave Youngstown, bound for Marion, at 10 o'clock Wednesday night.

In charge of arrangements for the special train are James Cusic, Fred H. Hayner, P. H. Neidig, George Lehner and O. G. Eibling.

Paul Sifritt, newly-installed president of the lodge, last night appointed the following standing committees for the ensuing year: Auditing, O. G. Eibling, George Hachten and George Lehner; investigation, James Smith, Fred Eaton and James Cusic; and sick committee, first ward, A. R. Armbruster and George Kelly; second ward, James Cusic, W. M. Ireland and Fred H. Hayner; third ward, George Lehner, Manuel Fogle and James Smith; and fourth ward, O. E. Eibling and Robert Mugg.

Four applications for membership were received. The next meeting will be held at the hall next Wednesday night.

PASSENGERS HURLED FROM THEIR BERTHS

New York Limited Crashes into Two Pullmans at Rochester, N. Y.

Rochester, N. Y., June 9—One hundred or more passengers were hurled from their berths today when the New York Limited, a crack night express of the New York Central Railroad, crashed head on into two Pullmans, filled with Rochester passengers, stationed on a siding here waiting to be attached to Boston Express 46. Several persons were slightly bruised but none was seriously injured.

Prompt work on the part of Pullman porters, who remained in their cars and reassured the passengers, averted a panic.

All the passengers in the Rochester Pullmans were shaken up and about 40 of them required medical attention. Railroad physicians administered to them and found that, beyond bruises and slight lacerations, none of them was seriously hurt.

Many of the passengers on the limited were also thrown to the floor by the impact. The two Rochester Pullmans were driven nearly 50 feet by the collision.

Cries of the passengers went up on all sides. Many of the passengers rushed for the exits in night attire. The porters, however, quickly calmed them.

An investigation this morning indicated, it was stated, that the wreck was probably due to an error on the part of a yardman who threw a wrong switch. It was regarded as fortunate that the limited was making slow time when the impact occurred.

PLANS TO RUSH MURDER TRIAL OF S. A. LENGEL

Harter Acts Following Indictment of Former Canton Chief of Police

JAILS OUSTED OFFICIAL

Fifth Man Indicted in Mellett Killing Declares His Innocence

Canton, June 9—While Seranus A. Lengel, deposed Canton chief of police, was in Stark County Jail here today awaiting arraignment on a charge of first degree murder in connection with the slaying of Don R. Mellett, Louis Mazer, indicted last fall as one of the Mellett conspirators, was to be sentenced.

Mazer, whose confession to his part in the plot to slay the young editor resulted in the conviction of Floyd Streitenberger and in turn the indictment of Lengel, has thrown himself on the mercy of the court. He is charged with first degree murder, but Common Pleas Judge A. W. Agler, before whom he is scheduled to appear today, probably will not give him a heavy sentence.

Lengel, snow-white haired, 65-year-old former chief, who had only one more year to serve before he was eligible for pension, was visited in his cell by W. Bernard Rodgers, young lawyer associated with the law firm with which former United States Senator Atlee Pomerene was identified here.

Trial July 5?

Rodgers may represent Lengel in the murder trial. He has been counsel for the aged chief in efforts which still are pending to force Mayor Stanford M. Swarts and the civil service commission to return him to his post.

Lengel is expected to be arraigned Saturday, although Prosecutor Henry W Harter, Jr., had not decided on the exact date this morning. Harter declared, however, that he will demand a speedy trial, and suggested July 5, as a possible starting date.

"I'll be ready then, too," Lengel said "The sooner the better."

The ex-chief was stoic as he was served with the capias by Sheriff Ed Gibson late yesterday afternoon, shortly after the grand jury had returned the indictment. Gibson found his prisoner sitting on the front porch of his home.

Says He's Not Afraid

"I've come to arrest you," Gibson said.

"Well, I certainly can't understand it," Lengel replied.

"Yes, it's a pretty big blow, I guess," the sheriff observed.

"It would be," the former chief retorted, "if I weren't innocent. But I'm not afraid."

Sometime Saturday Prosecutor Harter is scheduled to meet Ora Slater, Cincinnati detective, in Mansfield to interview a man whose identity was not revealed, in connection with the Mellett investigation. Harter said, however, that the man is not a reformatory prisoner.

Fifth Man Indicted

Lengel is the fifth man to be indicted for the murder of Mellett.

Patrick Eugene McDermott, of Nanty-Glo, Pa., convicted gunman, Ben Rudner, Massillon hardware merchant and son of a millionaire Canton junk dealer, and Floyd E. Streitenberger, ousted city detective and alleged henchman of Lengel, are serving life sentences in Ohio Penitentiary, Streitenberger and McDermott without hope of pardon.

Mellett was shot down shortly after midnight, on the morning of July 16, 1926. He carried on an editorial crusade for nearly a year, charging an alliance existed between the underworld and certain members of the police department. As a result of the campaign and the cleanup which followed the murder, Mellett's newspaper, the Canton Daily News, won the 1926 Pulitzer prize.

WILL SING FIRST MASS IN PARISH OF BOYHOOD

LaRue School To Be Scene of Anthony Wolf's Initial Services Sunday

LaRue, June 9—Anthony Wolf, son of Mr. and Mrs. Killian Wolf residing one mile east of LaRue will be ordained into the Holy Priesthood at Cincinnati, Saturday morning, June 11 and will return to LaRue for his first high mass, Sunday morning.

Due to the smallness of the church here the school auditorium will be used and the entire community has been invited to attend. Visiting delegations are expected from Marion, Kenton, Lima, Columbus and Cincinnati.

Mr. Wolf, three years a student in the LaRue High school ending in 1917, is one of the youngest men to ever be ordained into the priesthood, being 28 years of age.

Attended Dayton School

After leaving the LaRue schools Mr. Wolf was one year a student at St. Mary's College, now known as the University of Dayton and later a student at St. Joseph's College, Rensselaer, Ind., where he finished his college work of four years in two. He then went to Mt. St. Mary's Cincinnati, and after spending two years there, he was selected from a large number of students to study abroad. He was sent to the centuries old university at Insbruck, Austria. After only one year of study here, his health gave way and he was sent to the famous health resort at Davos, Switzerland, where he spent two years.

After recovery of his health, Mr. Wolf returned to the United States last fall and has been preparing the past winter for his ordination.

Five Still in School

Mr. Wolf has a younger brother, Theodore, who is a Dominican monk in study at Ft. Augustus, Scotland, and two sisters of the Order of St. Francis, Agnes a nurse at Nebraska City, Neb., and Stella, a teacher and organist at Brookville, Ind. There are six children of the family at home, five of whom are enrolled in the LaRue schools.

Preparations for an unusually large crowd are going forward here and many visiting priests and officers of the Catholic Church will be in attendance.

PRIMARY HERE EXPECTED TO BE TAME AFFAIR

Only One Contest Seen as Period for Filing Nears Close

DEMOCRATS QUIET

Republicans Have Man for All But Two Offices, Records Show

With but one contest indicated and the period for filing declarations scheduled to close at midnight Friday the local primary election in August is expected to be a very tame affair.

There is no candidate for the office of sixth ward councilmen to date, a check of declarations at the office of the Marion County Board of Elections disclosed today.

From the head of the ticket on down Republicans have shown a fair interest by placing a candidate in all but two of the 14 offices. Only four Democrats have filed to date.

Mayor Earl Hanen, present incumbent, is seeking reelection to that office on the Republican ticket. His declaration was placed on file more than a week ago.

While it has been announced that W. H. Hoberman will run on the Democratic ticket for this office his papers have not as yet been filed at the board of elections office.

Two For Solicitors

For city solicitor George T. Geran, who is serving the unexpired term of Grant E. Mouser, Jr., will be candidate for on the Republican ticket, Fred H. Zuck, Democrat, will also be a candidate. Both have already filed.

For auditor there is but one candidate, J. Luther Landes, who is now serving his third term. He is a Republican.

Both parties have a candidate for the office of city treasurer. They are Russell Snare, Republican, and Ralph E. Grubaugh, Democrat.

E. M. Murphy, president of city council, is the only candidate for that office. He is a Republican.

J. A. Wilkins, Republican, is a candidate for reelection as councilman of Twenty-five farm bureau representatives from Marion and six neighboring counties were in attendance yesterday at the joint meeting of Districts 6 and 7 of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation at the Harding Hotel.

D. M. Odaffer, Bucyrus, vice president of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation, was the principal speaker, addressing the meeting on matters of interest to farm bureau agents.

Bernard Hatton, field representative of District 5, gave a brief talk on "The District at Work." Mrs. Howard C. Koogle of Richland County, spoke on "The Women of the Farm Bureau," telling of the various activities of the women of the organization.

Other speakers were R. J. Elliott of Mansfield, L. M. Shaw of Marysville, W. D. Crowder of Crawford County, Carl Markley of Morrow County, J. R. Gilkey of Richland County, and S. E. Whonsetter of Crawford County.

A round-table discussion of farm bureau activities was held during the business session.

Counties represented were Morrow, Crawford, Richland, Wyandot, Delaware, Union and Marion.

MARION ELKS PLAN TO SEE STATUE UNVEILING

Memory of President Harding To Be Honored by Newark Lodge

Between 20 and 25 Marion Elks are planning to attend the unveiling of a statue of President Harding by Newark lodge of Elks Sunday at Baughman's Memorial Park, near Black Run, it was announced today.

Judge Charles L. Justice, judge of the Third Appelate District, Lima, and president of the Ohio Elks Association, will be the principal speaker. Judge Justice was formerly exalted ruler of the Elks Lodge here and was head of Marion lodge when President Harding was presented a life membership in the order.

Elaborate and impressive ceremonies will mark the unveiling of the statue, the work of Brice Baughman, farmer-sculptor, according to word received here today from Newark Lodge. The ceremonies will be under the auspices of Newark lodge, of which the sculptor is a member. The statue is one of many struck by Mr. Baughman from rock quarried on his farm.

Invitations have been extended to all Elks in Ohio to attend the services.

$300,000 LOSS IS SUSTAINED IN NIGHT BLAZE

Smoking Debris All That Remains of Two-Story Structures

150 MEN OUT OF WORK

Starts Plans for Rebuilding; Temporary Arrangements Are Made

Galion, June 9—Two city blocks of skeletoned brick walls, twisted iron, smoking ashes and debris was all that remained today of structures housing two manufacturing concerns following one of the most disastrous night fires in local history.

One hundred and fifty employes of the Galion Metallic Grave Vault Co. and the Ditweiler Manufacturing Co. are temporarily out of work as a result of the $300,000 disaster.

Officials of the companies, which are both under the same management, were making plans today for rebuilding on the site of the fire.

To Use Erie Shops

Temporary arrangements call for establishment of quarters in the abandoned Erie shops in the railroad yards where the Ditweiler concern will continue to fill government contracts for large numbers of auto dump bodies. This was expected to be a record year for this concern. Four other vault companies here this morning placed machinery and shop room at the disposal of the metallic company for filling orders.

Part of the fire loss is covered by insurance according to President L. M. Liggett of the vault company.

Investigations as to the cause of the fire were started today.

Started in Machine Room

Night Watchman George Metager was the first to discover the blaze in the main building of the plant at about one o'clock this morning. His alarm brought the local department and eventually several thousands citizens to the scene. The Bucyrus fire department responded to a call for aid and worked with the local force until 5:30 this morning.

Low water pressure was held responsible for the slight effort of the eight and nine streams of water, which the two companies kept trained on the blazing inferno.

With a limitless supply of water available in the city reservoir but a few feet distant from the blazing building the fire proved its strength and burned itself out destroying all in its path.

Save Other Buildings

Work of the fire fighting forces in preventing spread of the flames to the plant of the local electric company and the Rosenwald Garment Co. plant on adjoining lots received praise today. When insulation on heavy electric cables nearby caught fire, power at the electric plant was shut off as a precautionary measure. Lack of power prevented the opening of the garment company for work this morning. Repairs were to be completed during the day.

Those investigating the fire are puzzled over its rapid spread. Starting in the machine room, it soon enveloped the main building and crossed to an annex over a connecting overhead bridge and continued until both two-story structures were leveled. The fire spread was accelerated, it is believed, by explosion of a gasoline tank on the second floor of the main building.

The fire this morning is the second disaster of the kind on this site. Twenty-four years ago the plant of the Galion Wagon & Gear Co. was gutted by a large fire.

GRADE A MILK SUPPLY PROPOSED BY GRUBER

Inspector Would Amend Ordinance To Provide Best Quality Possible

Provisions in the milk ordinance for grade A pasteurized milk to supply those who wish to pay a higher price than that now asked for the general pasteurized milk, was suggested by Milk and Meat Inspector Dr. J. T. Gruber in a report before the board of health at its monthly meeting in the health office, yesterday afternoon.

The milk would come only from herds in which each cow has been tuberculin tested and would be cooled by the most modern methods. From the time it is drawn from the cow until brought to the city in insulated cans and pasteurized in a tank used for the treatment of this milk only, the milk would be handled and treated only by the most modern methods.

There are at the present time but two herds of cows in the county qualified to furnish such milk, Dr. Gruber said. The price would be about two cents higher than that being paid at the present time, in the opinion of the milk inspected.

Approximately 60 gallons of raw milk is being distributed daily in the city at the present time, Dr. Gruber said. In his report for the month the milk inspector said he had given eight cows the tuberculin test and had found two reactors. He also reported 28 inspections with 13 permits granted, three of which were first refused and later granted as requirements were met with. Two permits were refused and one cancelled during the month.

What's News in Capital? Lindbergh, Sir, That's All

Maj. Gen. Mason M. Patrick and his "bus"

BY CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON, June 9—Notice is hereby given that mighty little alleged news will be available from this man's town, until after Charlie Lindbergh's been and gone, that isn't more or less tinctured with Lindy stuff.

You can no more get away from the subject than you could get away from the subject of the World War while that was still going on.

Nobody'll pay any attention to anything else.

For one thing, you can't look up without seeing somebody go scooting by in a plane—limbering up, to be in first class practice for the aerial festivities when that young flier gets here.

They say Maj. Mason M. Patrick himself, chief of the army aviation service, is trying out a few stunts to show Lindy, when he gets to Washington. At all events, the general's been absent from his desk a good bit of late and his "subs" account is that he's putting his bus through all its fanciest paces.

POSTMASTER GENERAL NEW, though, is the proudest man in the country.

The army and navy, he says, may pull more weird tricks in the air, but when it comes to furnishing go-getters, let 'em try to stack up against his mail fliers.

To say that the army and navy airmen and the postoffice outfit are jealous of one another wouldn't be expressing it in quite the right way, perhaps, but there certainly is considerable rivalry between them.

Generally speaking, the military bunch have had most of the opportunities to furnish the spectacular performances, while the mail carriers have felt that they were tied down to steady plugging—weren't allowed to show off if they wanted to. It's galled 'em somewhat.

Then along came Lindbergh—and, oh gosh! how the postoffice gang have been swelling around about it!

THE Smithsonian Institution is a strong candidate for the Lindbergh plane.

The management's argument is that Lindy's flight, having been national triumph, its museum is a more appropriate place for his machine than anything St. Louis has to offer.

If Charles does, of course the Smithsonian recognizes that it will have to [illegible] but there's some thought, if he fails, of appealing to St. Louis' better nature—though without any great degree of confidence that its natures good enough to make quite that much of a sacrifice.

However, the Smithsonian folk hold that you can't get anything you don't ask for. They're quite willing to trade off a couple of stuffed mastodons, or some such thing, for the trophy, if that will be any inducement.

SPEAKING of aviation, Commander Pinedo expressed the opinion while here that tropical jungles are more dangerous to fly over than the ocean.

He points out that an airman can tumble into the sea without necessarily killing himself and then stand some chance, even though a pretty poor one, of being picked up—a theory he's since verified by doing it.

But landing, whole, on a thick mat of tree branches, thousands of miles in extent, he contends, is next to an impossibility, and having done that much, he sees still less prospect ever of getting out of a jungleful of boa constrictors and other wild animals.

Here's Real Relief From Neuritis

In 24 to 48 Hours Pains Are Often Relieved and You Get Rest and Comfort Again.

Torturing pains—the kind that pierce and burn and never seem to let up—that rob a man of his sleep—that make him just a bag of nerves and all worn out.

These are the pains that dope and coal tar products can only partially relieve.

The safest and most efficient way to get rid of the persistent, nerve-racking pains of Neuritis is to get a bottle of Allenrhu Special Formula No. 2. Be sure you get No. 2, which comes in capsule form. Take these little dark green capsules as directed and in about 24 hours you should be able to notice that they have considerably reduced if not almost banished those severe, torturing pains that have cause you so many sleepless nights. Continue for two or three days more or until you are satisfied with results.

It doesn't matter how long you may have suffered or whether your Neuritis is in the soulder, arm, neck or legs, Allenrhu Special Formula No. 2 should give you speedy relief. Bradley Drug Store or any good druggist will be glad to supply you.—Adv.

he'd say to you:

Lowell Sherman, one of the stage's greatest favorites

"It is a wonderful thing to realize that an actor can indulge in smoking and at the same time retain the quality of his voice necessary to a good performance. I am happy to say that I have found this to be true with Lucky Strikes. So much so that I smoke them both while on and off the stage."

Lowell Sherman

When in New York you are cordially invited to see how Lucky Strikes are made at our exhibit, corner Broadway and 45th Street.

You, too, will find that Lucky Strikes are mild and mellow—the finest cigarettes you ever smoked, made of the finest Turkish and domestic tobaccos, properly aged and blended with great skill, and there is an extra process—"It's toasted"—no harshness, not a bit of bite.

EXHIBIT OF DEEP SEA ANIMALS HERE FRIDAY

Famous Whale-Shark To Be Shown with Display

The largest fish ever caught, the famous whale-shark, weighing 30,000 pounds and measuring 45 feet in length, together with more than 150 other rare deep sea creatures, will be in Marion Friday for an exhibition of four days. The exhibit is housed in a special railroad car, which probably will be parked at the Erie crossing on N. Main-st.

The specimens will be brought here by Capt. Lin G. Greene. Among the many curiosities are the original P. T. Barnum mermaid figures, leopard sharks, devil shark, sawfish, cowfish, a giant octopus and many others.

The huge whale-shark, characterized by scientists as a "rhyndon tipious," was caught 110 miles off the coast of Miami, Fla., by Capt. Charles H. Thompson, a sportsman of Florida.

When the fish was first sighted it was swimming on the surface in water about 18 feet deep. Lowering a small boat from his yacht, Capt. Thompson rowed over to the monster and drove a harpoon into its side.

HERE'S MORE ABOUT PRIMARY STARTS ON PAGE 1

the First Ward. So far he has no opposition.

Both parties are represented for the office of Second Ward councilman with T. J. Mead seeking reelection on the Democratic ticket and Don B. Clark seeking the office as a Republican.

John L. Owens is seeking reelection to the office of Third Ward councilman on the Republican ticket. He has no opposition thus far.

Only Contest

The only primary contest is for the office of Fourth Ward councilman. The two republicans for this office are Edward G. Roberts and Grant Haldeman. The Democratic candidate is Charles L. Miller.

Charles Schmidt, serving as a Republican in the Fourth Ward, is seeking election to the office of councilman of the fifth ward, the redistricting having placed his residence in one of the new wards.

Neither party has a candidate for the sixth ward. There are two Republicans for the office of councilmen-at-large to which three are to be elected. Thy ar A. H. Williams, who is serving in that capacity at the present time and Ralph B. Good, another who is serving in the same capacity.

Candidates for township and village offices will get on by petition before the November election. The township offices include clerk, three trustees, justice of the peace, and constable. Village offices include mayor, clerk, treasurer, marshal and councilmen, the number determined by the size of the community.

PETIT JURORS FOR MAY TERM ARE DISMISSED

Order Issued When Case Scheduled Today Is Settled Out of Court

Petit jurors for the May term of court were dismissed today when settlement was reached in the money action of the Hoover Allison Co. against Edward C. Hehla and others in Marion County Common Pleas Court. The dismissal order was issued by Judge George B. Scofield.

The case was scheduled for hearing today. All but 15 of the jurors had been dismissed previously when continuance was granted in the case of Howard A. Stevens, attorney, charged with embezzlement. The 15 jurors held were instructed to appear this morning.

PRAISE M'NEAL FOR STAND ON SUNDAY DANCES

Anna Gordon W. C. T. U. Takes Action; Letter To Be Sent Judge

Members of the Anna Gordon W. C. T. U. were unanimous in their vote of appreciation to Judge L. B. McNeal for the action taken by him in revoking the Sunday dance permit at Crystal Lake, at their meeting yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. F. Williamson, 429 Girard-av.

A letter of commendation and appreciation will be sent Judge McNeal by the secretary "for the action taken very recently standing 'four-square' for the sanctity of the Sabbath Day and the safeguarding of the morals of our young people as far as he can with the power invested in him by the citizens of Marion and Marion County by revoking the license for public dancing at Crystal Lake."

The day marked the observance of Flower Mission and Relief Day and an entertaining program was presented in charge of Mrs. Anna Oglesbee, superintendent of this department. Plans were made to observe the day at the Marion County Home Wednesday afternoon, June 15, together with other unions of the county. The Waddell Ladies' Home also will be visited and a program given next week, it was planned.

Mrs. O. M. Cline was appointed chairman of a committee to arrange with other committees of the county for the annual W. C. T. U. picnic. She will be assisted by Mrs. Earl Beicher and Mrs. E. Wilhelm. Plans were made to go to Dayton June 28, when they will visit a World War veteran, William J. Austill, and enjoy a picnic dinner. Mr. Austill is the veteran assigned the Anna Gordon Chapter by the state. Miss Alice Kennedy is superintendent of the veteran work.

Pageant Is Given

Bouquets of Oriental poppies, peonies and syringia carried out an attractive decorative scheme in the rooms and later the flowers were distributed to the members and guests.

During the program hour Miss Katherine Williamson entertained with a piano solo and Mrs. Mary Jennings gave a reading, "Carry Away the Song." "How Daddy Met His Crisis," was the subject of a reading by Mrs. A. H. Marks. An interesting flower mission pageant was given by members of the Loyal Temperance Legion, with Mrs. W. F. Williamson as leader and Miss Katherine Williamson presiding at the piano. Those taking part were Miss Virginia Crotinger, Miss Georgia Croft, Miss Margaret Price, Miss Dorothy Kinnamon, Miss Gladys Toby, Miss Imogene Marks and Miss Margaret Williamson. Miss Margaret Williamson concluded the program with a vocal number, "Lullaby."

Guests of the afternoon were Miss Ida Pearl Croft, Miss Kathleen Beicher, Miss Esther May Cline and Lester Ray Cline. Assisting hostesses were Mrs. Earl Beicher, Mrs. Eva Wilhelm and Mrs. S. A. Williamson. The next regular meeting will be July 13 with Mrs. John Hochstetter, 300 N. Prospect-st.

DAM IS DYNAMITED BY ENRAGED FARMERS

Houma, La., Thrown in State of Panic; Water Rises in Bayou

Houma, La., June 9—The emergency dam thrown up in Bayou Black a week ago to protect Houma from flood waters was dynamited early today by a party of 200 enraged farmers. Four charges of dynamite completely wrecked the dam.

Houma was thrown into a state of panic when the four explosions were heard. Crowds rushed to the edges of the lower Bayou Black and Bayou Terrebonne to learn of the danger, while others busied themselves in preparing their goods for flight from the town.

The rise in the water in the bayou following the destruction of the dam was suprisingly slow, and engineers who examined the situation early today said ti was unlikely that it would rise high enough to flood Houma.

The dam was thrown up by army engineers ten days ago in the belief that the mounting flood waters were imperiling Houma. The water has been piling up behind the dam for a week, spreading over dozens of farms above Waterproof plantations.

The destruction of huge crops of sugar cane and cotton under the spreading lake above the dam led to bitter demands that it be torn down. Wednesday afternoon 200 farmers appeared before the parish police commission and demanded destruction of the dam, claiming it was wiping out crops worth fortunes and accomplishing nothing for Houma.

CHARGE AGAINST BOWERS IS DISMISSED BY JUDGE

A charge of selling intoxicating liquor held against Charles Bowers, arrested late Saturday night, was dismissed by Municipal Judge William J. [illegible] yesterday afternoon on motion of [illegible] prosecutor. Bowers [illegible] was released.

Lindbergh Returns to U. S. Loaded Down With Honors

(By International News Service)

COL. Charles A. Lindbergh, the boy aviation hero, scarcely known a few weeks ago, will return to his native land next Saturday laden with honors received and anticipated.

In France he received the cross of the Legion of Honor, the medal of the city of Paris, the French Aero Club medal, the French Georgrpahical Society medal, and gold plaque of the Lafayette Escadrille and was made an honorary member of the famous flying corps. Lindbergh's name was also listed at the head of candidates elegible for the French 1927 Grand Prix.

From Belgium, Lindbergh received the cross of the order of Leopold, the Medaille D' or and the Belgian aviation medal.

King George of England conferred the British Air Force cross on the young American flier. He also received the daily mail gold aviation cup.

Spain bestowed its precious Plus Ultra Medal on the transatlantic hero.

The Distinguished Flying Cross will be presented to Lindbergh by President Coolidge in Washington and the medal for valor of New York state by Governor Smith when Lindbergh arrives in New York. The Smithsonian institute has marked the middlewestern aviator for the Langley Air medal and he has been promoted to a colonelcy in the Missouri National Guard.

The number of minor gifts and honorary membership in organizations bestowed upon this Caesar of the air are legion.

SMALLPOX SCARE NOW NATIONWIDE IN SCOPE

Situation Not Considered Serious by State Officials; Warning Issued

Columbus, June 9—The smallpox scare resulting from the recent outbreak of this disease among delegates who attended a convention of Nazarene Church members at Troy May 12-15, has assumed nationwide proportions, it developed here today.

Dr. John Monger, state health director, stated that he was informed that residents of various other states attended the Troy convention.

While the situation was not deemed alarming by state health officials, Director Monger voiced belief that it served as a warning to all persons who have not been vaccinated against smallpox to do so at once.

Officials of the state health department, Director Monger said, are cooperating with local health authorities throughout Ohio in an effort to have all persons vaccinated who attended the convention or who came in contact with anyone who attended that convention, and have not been vaccinated.

The state health department, also, is endeavoring to notify all persons from other states who attended the Troy conventon of the situation, Monger stated.

A number of smallpox cases have developed at Troy, Dayton, Springfield, Coshocton, Xenia and other Ohio points among persons who attended the Troy convention, said Monger, but no fatalities had been reported.

COURT ACTION PLANNED ON DELINQUENT TAXES

Answers to Notices Coming in Slow, C. R. Randels Reports

With answers to delinquent personal tax notices coming in slowly preparations were being made today to bring a series of court actions to speed up payments, it was announced today by C. R. Randels, who has been hired to collect back taxes in the county.

While the county treasurer's records show a total of $60,000 outstanding approximately $45,000 of this is collectable, Mr. Randels stated.

In accounting for the difference in figures Mr. Randels explained that in many instances that have come under his observation since he started the collection work in this county adjustments were made but the money was never charged off the books. The treasurer has no authority to charge off the amount and can only do so through a court order, he said.

ROAD WORK IS MOVING FORWARD HERE RAPIDLY

Ideal Weather Conditions Assist Surveyor's Staff in Rushing Operations

Favored by ideal weather during the last few days work on county road improvements is going full blast with every workman and every piece of machinery at the disposal of County Surveyor Cecil R. Leavens pressed into service.

Rapid progress on all the projects started several weeks ago was reported at the engineer's office today. If the present weather continues for four or five more days it is expected that the surveyor's staff will be able to catch up to its schedule.

SOWERS RITES FRIDAY

Columbus Jurist Dies in Portsmouth, Stricken with Pneumonia

Columbus, June 9—Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Friday for Judge Daniel H. Sowers, president of the Ohio Association of Common Pleas Judges, and leading member of the Franklin County judiciary. Judge Sowers died late yesterday at Portsmouth, where he was stricken with pneumonia while visiting friends last week. He was formerly safety director of Columbus, and was serving his second term as common pleas judge. His widow, Mrs. Mary Parsons Shrewsbury Sowers, formerly of Huntington, W. Va., and one son, survive.

MOVIE OWNERS HEAR FIGHT ON WILL HAYS

Press Agent Charges Film Czar with Discrimination at Columbus Meet

Columbus, June 9—Delegates to the convention of the Motion Picture Theaters of America today were preparing to select a convention city, elect officers and adjourn at the final session today, following a spirited discussion of the merits of Will Hays' administration as "movie czar", which featured the annual banquet.

Led by Harry Reichenbach, Broadway theatrical press agent, a vigorous assault upon Hays' administration drew vigorous applause from a majority of the theater owners. Reichenbach charged Hays with discrimination, with yielding to private grudges against certain persons in directing the affairs of moviedom, and with rendering decisions influenced by "the power of wealth of interested parties, rather by justice." Hays' action in forbidding William Fox from filming Somerset Maughan's play, "Rain," because of its alleged immorality, and later permitting Gloria Swanson to make the film, was cited by Reichenbach as an example of alleged discrimination.

Harry M. Warner offered a strong defense for Hays, characterizing the movie dictator as "the only stabilizing influence in the motion picture industry."

150,000 ARE EXPECTED AS WASHINGTON VISITORS

Highways and Railroads Loaded to Capacity with Lindbergh's Admirers

Washington, June 9—With flivver caravans reported on the way and railroads announcing an unprecedented demand for transportation, Washington police officials today prepared to handle a crowd of 150,000 visitors at the national home-coming of Charles A. Lindbergh, trans-atlantic air hero, on Saturday.

The wide-spread interest aroused by the flight of Chamberlin and Levine apparently served only to intensify the determination of local people to give Lindbergh a welcome more enthusiastic than the receptions American fliers met abroad.

Disregarding the official starting time—set for his arrival at the presidential dock about 11 a. m., Saturday—thousands of people scurried to make reservations on steamboats which will travel in the wake of the U. S. S. Memphis up the Potomac on Saturday.

The official program, drawn with the express approval of President Coolidge, has failed to end the flood of invitations to the young aviator.

A dramatic appeal was sent to Capt. Lindbergh by a local sorority which had planned a benefit ball for Saturday night. Although Lindbergh does not dance the flapper committee wirelessed that success or failure of their effort for Mississippi flood sufferers depends upon his presence.

COUNTY BORER CLEAN-UP WILL END NEXT WEEK

Resumption of Work in Fall Is Now Being Advocated

Next week will witness the end of the active corn borer extermination campaign in Marion and surrounding counties until after the harvest next fall.

This announcement was brought back to Marion today by G. Perle Johnson, Hardin County, who is in charge of the clean-up campaign in this county, following a conference with officials in the campaign at Toledo.

Resumption of the work in the fall by using stubble beaters and cutting the corn stalks to within two inches of the ground is being advocated at this time, it was stated by Mr. Johnson. This work will entail little cost to the farmers, it is pointed out and will not threaten crops as the clean-up did this spring.

Whether or not there will be any compensation allowed farmers for the proposed fall drive has not been established, Mr. Johnson stated.

To Concentrate Machinery

All of the machinery used in the cleanup work throughout the state representing a huge investment will be concentrated at some point in northern Ohio, probably at or near Toledo, or near Camp Perry, Mr. Johnson was informed on his visit to Toledo.

In announcing plans for terminating the present drive next week Mr. Johnson urged all farmers in the county to rush the work on their farms in order to arrange compensation. When the drive is ended each township inspector will check the farms in his territory and report the work that has been done to the authorities at the Toledo office.

Compensation for the work ranges from $2 to $1 an acre, the amount to be determined by the class of work done. Clean-up work in strict accordance with the rules set down for the campaign will be compensated at the maximum rate.

To Mail Checks

Checks for the clean up work will be mailed to farmers as soon as the reports can be completed and sent into the office at Toledo, it was stated by Mr. Johnson.

In placing an estimate on the efficiency of the drive in Marion County Mr. Johnson expressed the belief that practically 75 per cent of the farm land in this community has been worked over. This percentage will reach 90 by the end of the week, he believes.

There is a possibility that in addition to resuming work in the fall that a general clean-up drive may be started next spring following a check to determine the infestation this fall. However these plans are only tentative and no definite action is expected to be taken until after the fall drive.

LUCILLE L. RETTERER HEART DISEASE VICTIM

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Retterer Stricken; Funeral Friday

Lucille L. Retterer, 11-day-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Retterer of the Berlinger-rd, died at 8 o'clock last night at her home. She died following a five-hours illness of leakage of the heart.

The child was born in Richland Township May 29, of this year. The mother was formerly Miss Marie Ebert, and both parents were born in Marion County. Surviving with the parents are one sister, Twilla M. Retterer, 2, and one borther, Oscar Retterer, Jr., 3.

Funeral services will be held from the late home, eight and one half miles south of Marion on the Berlinger-rd, at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon. Burial will be in Waldo Cemetery.

Shop and Compare—

In these days you are apt to be influenced by pictures and prices that "look good on paper." When you investigate, however, the furniture is "not so good."

Furniture can be, and often is, built down to a price, and outward appearances are often deceiving. It is risky to buy something that you have to look at and live with every day of your life, so we always advise shopping around. Then you will be safe.

If you will go to one or more good stores first, compare prices and quality carefully, and then come to Schaffner's we are quite sure you will find out why we have so much confidence in our merchandise and our prices that we actually advise shopping around.

Another thing which has been demonstrated is that taking a transatlantic flight is no way to develop an appetite.

You never can tell. Just as likely as not Benito Mussolini may take the selection of the Black hills for the summer White House as a sort of indirect tribute to Fascism.

Soviet Russia wants the rest of the world to disarm, but it maintains the largest army extant and her diplomats, as shown by the case of the one assassinated in Warsaw, go about toting guns.

Roger Babson says "no one thing would do the United States so much good today as an anti-debt campaign." Roger must have bought an encyclopedia or something on the install-ment plan.

A Bible of 1539 records that Eve wore an apron of figge leves which she and Adam sewed together, which goes to show that the present-day flapper hasn't so far to go as some may have thought.

Why should not Mr. Coolidge have asked Mr. Lindbergh to come to Washington? It's no more than natural that the champion runner should want to meet the champion flier.

President Henry Salant, of the Anti-Third-Term league, "sees" Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler in the lead as the opponent of Mr. Coolidge for the Republican presidential nomination. We are beginning to suspect that the Anti-Third-Term league is largely made up of the "personal liberty" element and is more or less moist.

It is cheering to read that the work of laying new rails on Davids street from Wood street to Center has been started, not because we are so much personally interested, but rather owing to the fact that it will serve to end the complaints which have for some time been almost ceaseless regarding that part of the local lines.

It may be said, in passing, that it is no longer necessary for the graduates to point out that "Beyond the Alps Lies Italy." Mr. Mussolini has taken that job off their hands.

It's hard to overcome a bad reputation. Despite the fact that it has been persistent for years in its endeavor to keep the rose bushes free from bugs, how few of us have a kind word for the English sparrow!

Since reading in an Ostend cable that a Buckeye attendant at the Rotary convention over there had been robbed of three pairs of trousers, we have been wondering which one of the Marion trio—Jesse Mason, C. E. Merkel or Fred E. Guthery—would be most liable to travel with a wardrobe making possible an experience like that.

With American trade increasing in every quarter of the globe, it is now predicted that 1927 will establish a new record for foreign sales in normal years; that exports will exceed $5,000,000,000 and show a favorable trade balance of $750,000,000, almost twice that of 1926. If the prediction proves true, it's our guess that anti-third-term talk will have just about as much political effect in 1928 as throwing water upon the back of a duck.

Getting Acquainted with Parents.

We were very agreeably surprised to learn from our news columns, Wednesday, the extent to which teachers in the local schools have been visiting the homes of their pupils. We were aware, of course, that teachers visited the homes of the boys and girls under them, but we never imagined that the practice was general. If such a policy has been followed in the past, it in some way escaped our attention. Hence it was that we were amazed that 3,130 of the 5,130 homes represented by pupils in the local schools had been visited by our teachers during the year.

At first glance the value of such visits may not be appreciated, but when one stops to consider that in no other way can teachers get so close to the parents of pupils as they do by meeting the parents personally, the merit of the plan becomes apparent, for there is no touch like the personal touch, and the better parents and teachers know each other, the better is bound to be the result for all concerned.

Under such a policy, the parent is better able to appreciate the problems faced by the teacher and the teacher is better qualified to work to the satisfaction of the parent and the good of the pupil. Many problems which might otherwise develop in the handling of his or her pupils will be obviated by the following of this course.

True, the execution of the plan takes time, but in the end it should, in the aggregate, save both time and trouble and repay tenfold the time and effort devoted to it. Though we may be late in offering felicitations over the adoption of the plan, we are none the less hearty and sincere in offering them at this time.

Telephone Systems Compared.

Long-time readers of this newspaper will support us when we say that we have never been a champion of government ownership; that we have ever been outspoken in our opposition to it. We have always believed the idea is fundamentally wrong, that it is always extravagant, that it results in indifferent service and is an imposition on the public, all of which we believe the public will appreciate in view of the awful economic tragedy government management made of our railway systems during the war.

Feeling as we do, and realizing the persistent endeavors of that element of our people committed to the idea of government ownership, control and management to bring about the passing of not only many public utilities, but also many lines of industry to government operation, we naturally are inclined to bring forward any facts or comments making comparison between governmental and private operation. Thus it is that we offer a recent article in the London Daily Mail.

Commenting on the latest report of the American Telephone and Telegraph company, a writer of that paper points out that for every hundred people in the United States there are more than fourteen telephones, while in the United Kingdom there are less than three, which condition he ascribes to the fact that the British system is operated by the post-office department, while private enterprise owns and manages the telephone service in this country.

"In this country," the writer says, referring to Great Britain, "the bureaucratically-managed telephone is a luxury of the well-to-do. In America, where there is a telephone to every six or seven people, practically every working man is on the wire, and so is practically every farmer. In England, large houses containing invaluable art collections burn down because there is no telephone to call the fire brigade. People living in the country have to send for the doctor on foot or on horseback exactly as they did in the Middle ages.

"All over Europe the telephone is managed, or rather mismanaged, by officialdom. In America the telephone is a private institution, and the result is that the United States, with 110,000,000 inhabitants, has considerably more than twice as many telephones as all Europe with four times as many inhabitants.

"It is time we denationalized the various public services which can be carried on far more cheaply and far more effectively by private enterprise, and a beginning should be made with the telephone."

The London Mail writer intimates, it may be noted, that the British wire systems could be more efficient. Had he gone further into the matter of efficiency and compared the efficiency of the government-operated wire systems of Great Britain with that of the privately-owned systems of the United States, we believe it would have resulted in still further tribute to the latter.

The fact is that our wire services are so exceptionally good, that we are so accustomed to excellent service, that we do not appreciate to the full how truly excellent they are. A little experience with European telegraph systems, particularly those of France and Italy, would make any American not previously acquainted with them a booster for American wire systems for all time.

Our idea of a blown-in-the-bottle pessimist is the fellow who fears that the reduced size of our paper money is going to make it harder to find.

We confess that we lack knowledge regarding the matter, but we assume that the new Ford cars will be like the old in one respect—about ninety per cent. engine.

In New York City alone sales of works of art, largely foreign, have amounted in the past nine months to $10,000,000. We wonder at times if we Americans are so grossly material as Europe would have us believe we are.

"Of course, mothers have their troubles looking after the children during the long vacation," remarked the fellow who lives next door on the way down town this morning, "but I see we are to have eight weeks of Bible school and that will certainly help them out a bit."

The Philadelphia Inquirer suggests that "a federal law compelling everybody to drink might result in making this a pretty dry country." That's the idea. If there's anything the average American resents it's dictation, which, it may be said, is not without reason.

Poems That Live.

EVEN AS YOU.

Men will not hear you, poet,
Men will not listen,
They are hearing the wheels that turn,
And the small clocks ticking.
Your voice is a silver star,
And a golden moon.
Your song is a wave on the shore,
A wind in the heavens.
You may sing it your whole life through,
But they never will hear you.

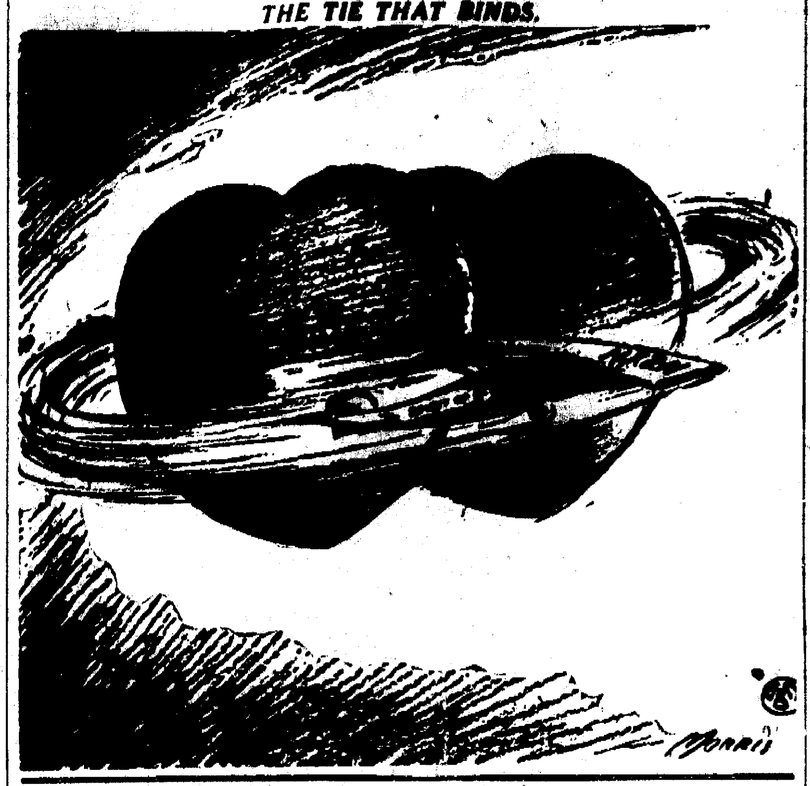
Men will not hear you, poet,
Men will not listen.
They are marching with trumpet and drum
And banners flying.
Your voice is the sound of rain,
And the drift of starlight.
Your words are leaves on the wind
And sands on the shore.

When your lips are dust
In the heart of the earth that bore you.
When your breath is a mist in the air.
A song in the sky,
They will pause and say,
"How sweet was the sound of his singing.
How lovely the notes he plucked
On the strings of his lyre.
Let us sing them now,
Let us weave a chaplet of laurel
And lay it down on the place
Where the poet is sleeping."

You will not be sleeping;
No, you will listen and hear them.
You will laugh in the windy sky,
And God will say,
"They have waked, and their hearts
Are attuned at last, to beauty."
But there on an earthly road,
In the dusk, in the shadow,
You will see a poet alone
With his lyre and his singing;
And even as you
He will go unheard, unheeded.

—Barbara Young.

THE TIE THAT BINDS.



Pleasant Emotions Help Heart.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

Worry kills sleep, impairs the appetite, sets the nerves on edge and produces loss of weight and efficiency. It makes everybody in the household miserably unhappy and takes the joy out of life.

You may wonder what such a mental attitude has to do with health. It is because the emotions affect the heart, the most important organ of the body.

The heart is an intricate machine, as well as a powerful pump. To have good health and long life, this vital organ must never miss a minute of activity. It must run on and on, all day and every day. Even without special strain or unusual demand, the pressure on the heart is tremendous.

If you know anything about an automobile or an engine or any sort, you are well aware that you can not jump it from low into high, putting it into full speed every little while, without destroying the mechanism. You can not overspeed an engine without doing it harm and shortening its life.

Emotion of every sort has a similar effect on the heart. Sudden fright or steady fear, anger, sorrow—every such disturbance of the mental state makes for sudden or undue demands on this organ. Too frequent repetition or too long sustained application of such effects must and do bring permanent impairment of the heart.

You must be temperate in all things. There must be temperance in eating; temperance in work; temperance in the emotional life. No man can be master of his fate unless he is temperate in all things.

Within reasonable limits, every man and woman, every boy and girl can control the number of years of life. To a great degree your length of days depends on your heart. How the heart performs and how long it will last is governed by the control of your emotions.

The pleasurable emotions are stimulating and helpful, but the depressing ones are deadly to happiness and longevity. If you feel miserable, cross and depressed, get out into the sunlight. Give yourself a brisk walk. Take a cool bath and rub thoroughly afterward.

If the bowels are constipated, see that they are opened freely. Many times dullness and unhappiness are associated with intestinal stagnation.

Don't worry. Find the cause of that miserable sensation and get rid of it.

ANSWERS TO HEALTH QUERIES.

M. E. B. Q.—What is the cause of enlarged glands?

2.—What simple remedy do you advise?

A.—This condition is usually caused by infected teeth or tonsils.

2.—Try rubbing with iodex ointment daily. Consult your family doctor.

R. R. Q.—Would a tablespoonful of boracic acid to a pint of water be too strong for an eye wash?

2.—How much epsom salts should be added to the water for bathing the feet and how often should this be used?

3.—Would one or two slices of toast every morning prove constipating?

A.—No.

2.—Without knowing the purpose for which you intend using it, it would be rather difficult to advise you. Why not ask your doctor?

3.—Should not, under ordinary circumstances.—Copyright, 1927.

CHANGING MOODS AT PARIS AND ROME.

Indications are not wanting that the governments of France and Italy have come round to a more receptive state of mind with regard to the Coolidge naval parley, scheduled to open in Geneva two weeks hence.

Their last official statements on the subject of participation, in reply to President Coolidge's suggestion that they be represented "in some fashion," were rather discouraging to those who believed that, if the conference was to be any kind of a success, the two Latin powers of the continent must sit in, if only through "observers."

It will be recalled, however, that even after this second refusal Mr. Coolidge remained confident, and one infers that he exerted whatever unofficial suasion was practicable. Other factors seem to have been at work. For obvious reasons Great Britain is specially interested in having the two European naval powers in attendance, and British diplomacy has not been idle.

The recent visit of President Doumergue to London marked a deliberate return to the earlier spirit of the Anglo-French entente, and it is not surprising to note that the change in France's attitude toward the conference has been generally ascribed to the rapprochement. As for Italy, her course in this matter has been shaped in accordance with that of France—not because of any solidarity of policy, but out of motives of rivalry. There is no sign that this rivalry has abated. At the same time there are ways in which the British can bring Rome to listen to reason, for it is on British co-operation that Italy bases her dreams of greatness in the Mediterranean.

However slight the degree to which France and Italy may choose to accept commitments at the conference, one thing already is certain. Paris and Rome seem to realize that they can lose more than gain by staying away. The object of the parley being to discuss the possibility of further reducing and limiting naval armaments, with due consideration for the special needs of each of the powers attending, there can be no valid excuse for aloofness at a time when the attempt has not yet been made, and when its success depends on the sincerity with which all those concerned make the effort.—Detroit Free Press.

LINDBERGH A PLAIN AMERICAN.

In expressing to the Swedish colony in Paris his regret that he could not visit the "land of his ancestors" Captain Lindbergh genially reminded his hearers that Sweden was the home of only some of them, inasmuch as he also had French, Irish and Manx blood in him.

In other words, Lindbergh is what we have all instinctively recognized and loved in him—a plain American. He is proud of his European ancestry and wants to see the place where his father was born in Sweden. But, like the many other millions of Americans who have the blood of various European races in their veins, he has no special partiality for any one group here or abroad.

The failure to realize that for many millions of our people there can be no such leanings is the great weakness of those professionally organized foreign groups in this country which seek to exploit the hyphen. Lindbergh's Swedish name has been used by several European groups in this country to taunt the native American element with his foreign origin. This attitude is deplorable primarily because it shows that such foreign groups are incapable of realizing that a man's ancestry has no bearing on his Americanism so long as he has truly absorbed the spirit of America. This Lindbergh has done infinitely better than those who seek to capitalize his glory in order to further the selfish interests of hyphenated groups.—New York Times.

FYING FOR SAFETY.

When Louis Bleriot flew the English channel in 1909, the world held its breath.

Today that trip is safer by air than by ship, according to insurance reckoning.

Air freight from London to Paris is insured in England at two shillings per 100 pound sterling. Insurance on the same freight by surface transport cost six shillings and eight pence.

The Imperial Airways, Ltd., and its predecessors, have flown more than 5,000,000 miles in seven years and carried some 75,000 passengers, with only four fatal accidents.

Fifty German air lines flew 3,814,000 miles last year, carrying 56,268 passengers, with only one fatal accident.

American mail planes flew 3,108,720 miles without a casualty in the fourteen months from February 12, 1926, to April 22, 1927.

This growing safety of routine air transport merits more attention than it receives. It demands especial attention in this time of daring when stunt or experimental and regulated commercial flying may become confused in the public mind.—Columbus Citizen.

The Way of the World.

BY GROVE PATTERSON.

The first John Jacob Astor to come to America ran away from his father's home in Waldorf, Germany. His father wanted him to be a butcher. That is why he ran away. Now, to be a butcher, is to have an honorable occupation and a useful one. But John Jacob Astor had vision for something else. He had other ideas and he had the courage to make an attempt to do what he wanted to do. Before he had finished with life in America he had bought so much land in New York—it was cheap then—that his children's children today are among the richest folks in the world. That came from having vision and the courage to strike out and take a chance. There is only a little plain luck in the world. Not nearly enough to go around. Remember that. Most success comes from having vision.

Somebody has said that to make a mistake and then brood over it is to make two mistakes. This is truly said. Remember this: Whatever sort of mistake you have made, you can do nothing more harmful and more useless than to impair your body and your mind by worry. For if you impair your body and your mind by using up an unnecessary amount of nervous energy in worry, you make yourself that much less fit to meet the next situation that arises. You are that much more likely to make another mistake. Don't wear yourself out uselessly. You need your strength for things that are real and tasks that are to come.

A real estate man known to the writer has done $2,000,000 worth of business in a comparatively short time. Much of that time conditions have not been good for the real estate business. At least that is what other real estate men said. This man says that enthusiasm, belief in the thing you are doing, faith in your own business and in the thing you have to sell is the answer. He has done more than other men because he has believed more than other men. He has had more faith than other men.

One of the ablest manufacturers in this country gives a sensible definition of the "saturation point." We are always hearing about the saturation point for motor cars and for other products. In reality is there any such thing? Of course there is, theoretically, but not practically. The saturation point for any given article will be reached when "everybody has one and none ever wears out."—Copyright, 1927.

New York Day by Day.

BY O. O. McINTYRE.

New York, June 9 — Thoughts at a first night: The curious lined up in the lobby. Flowers for the star and a few lesser luminaries. The harried expression of the producer. Old folks come early. The "angel" trying to appear don't-carish.

Coiffed heads. Exhilarating silks. Glistening shirt fronts. The usual handful who forgot their tickets. The meek little straw-colored men who trot in the wake of dowagers. Huge feathered fans heavily sprayed with chypre. Tweeded young men who write lyrics.

Plush ladies who drift to the smoking-room for one more "drag." The tautness back stage. And the Cyclopean eyes at the curtain peep hole. Texas Guinan and her brother, Tommy. The austerity of the lorgnons in the boxes. Those who seem to flitter down the aisles and those who lumber.

Karl Kitchen getting gray—that is what is left. The doctors who sit on the aisle. Faintly suggesting odors of the consulting room. The critics who settle back in their chairs as though making the best of a bad bargain. The "show-offs" who wave and bow.

Philandering husbands who have their girl friends sit directly in front of them. Women who continually feel at necklace clasps. Those haughty cardboard ladies who glare when disturbed by new arrivals. At the back rail "The Death Watch" and the claque.

The scraping of fiddles and the muted whining of horns. The self-consciousness of the trap drummer. And the grand entrance of the leader with his white gloves. The wave of restlessness in the gallery and the flashing light for the overture.

Mayor Walker—late as usual. And the usual applause. George Jean Nathan seems to sneak into his seat. Late diners who spoil every opening scene. The intermission with its rush to the sidewalk. And after the final curtain those old ladies in black with cotton gloves and pink packets of gum.

Even the most calloused producer lives in dread of a premiere. A smooth performance is almost impossible and the most trivial incident may upset a play and subject it to critical scorn. Recently in the middle of an act a prop wall mirror plopped to the floor with a thud. There was no way to rescue it and it happened during the tense pivotal movement of the play. All that followed was almost entirely shorn of interest. Distract an audience and it is lost.

It is noticeable that all the face liftings are not jelling properly. One man tells of meeting two ladies who are so changed that even old friends do not recognize them at first glance. Usually sour, they appear to be grinning all the time, he says.

There is one also who at a distance resembles Carmen with a rose between her teeth. But closer there is revealed a huge red strawberry blur on her cheek caused by some chemical reaction.

Views of Those in Public Eye.

DANIEL J. TOBIN.

Daniel J. Tobin was born in Ireland in 1875. He came to the United States in 1890. Since 1907 Tobin has been general president of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, Chauffeurs, Stablemen and Helpers. He is treasurer and member of the executive council of the American Federation of Labor and has represented that organization at a number of trade union congresses in Europe. Tobin was a member of President Wilson's industrial conference.

Tobin sees danger in the Mussolini plan of capitalizing Italian frugality. He then presents his views:

"Mussolini intends to capitalize Italian frugality and inurement of poverty in price-cutting competition for world markets.

"American prosperity is admitted in most quarters to be due, at least in part, to high wages and a widely-diffused buying power. The situation in Italy is different, according to the Fascist view, and they intend to enrich the nation by concentrating on international trade.

"The danger lies in the possibility that Mussolini may attain some momentary success in his plan to develop industry by exploiting labor. It is well known that centuries of poverty have developed in the Italian lower classes a talent for living on almost nothing. A few yards of spaghetti and a jug of cheap wine will keep an Italian family indefinitely. This was pointed out to me in Rome last summer by a gentleman who boasted of the prospects of his country under Fascism. It is now apparent what he meant.

"If this plan succeeds in Italy, it is not illogical to suppose that other nations will be drawn into competition on similar bases—a sort of world-wide race to see who can live on the least. Any economist can foresee what this means to the present industrial system. Commerce must have markets if factory wheels are to hum, and markets mean people with ability to consume, and money to buy merchandise.

"A 'contest in starvation' is likely to result in all contestants reaching the goal only to find there is no prize. Deprive the world's workers of all goods except bare sustenance—that is what competition in wage depression would ultimately mean—and what need will there be for our marvelously developed superindustry?"

Owing to unhygienic conditions and improper feeding, infant mortality on an average is more than ten times as high in China as in America. A clever move made in the silk stocking trade is an offer made by the makers of a well-known brand to mend free of charge silk stockings of the higher grades. Never Fail Club Members Entertain San Souci Club

Members of the Never Fail Club were hostesses to members of the San Souci Club at an afternoon party of delightful appointments yesterday at the home of Mrs. Charles Uncapher, Rayl-Uncapher-pk. Baskets of delphinium, roses and other spring bloom arranged an attractive decorative note throughout the rooms and a color effect in yellow and white was used for the tea served at 5 o'clock. The program opened with devotionals and the singing of "America," and roll call responses were "Helpful Hints." Miss Lena Schaber entertained with a piano number and Mrs. William Hinkle contributed a reading. A vocal solo by Mrs. W. H. Uncapher was followed by a playlet, "The Sewing Circle," by Mrs. Ed. Porter, Mrs. Henry Findling, Mrs. Francis Warner, Miss Dorothy Warner and Miss Ganelle Holt.

During the social hour contests in charge of Mrs. Ralph Renwick and Mrs. Fred Schaber were enjoyed, honors going to members of the San Souci Club. Guests included Mrs. Elizabeth McPeek, Mrs. J. E. Kaufman, Mrs. W. A. Gruber, Mrs. F. M. Fairchild, Mrs. Alpheus Gruber, Mrs. M. D. Porter, Mrs. O. E. Barks, Mrs. T. J. Graham, Mrs. J. D. Dietsch, Mrs. Truman Owen, Mrs. Charles Sutherland, Mrs. Albert Click, Misses Ethel Marie Mack, Josephine Barks and Georgana Owens.

The club will meet July 13 with Mrs. Moses Schrote, Rayl-Uncapher-pk, with Mrs. Raymond Dreyer and Mrs. Grace Wixtead serving on the entertainment committee.

Buttons on Skirt

A row of buttons on the front of the skirt of this trim sports frock gives it that little touch of "difference."

The suit is developed in a white and gold scheme. The tailored, box pleated skirt is made of old gold crepe de chine with the aforementioned row of nine white buttons on the two center pleats.

The white sweater has a gold border and cuffs and a gold ribbon outlines the V-shaped neck and comes together at the point in a bow. A slender walking stick carried by the wearer adds swank to this outfit.

CALEDONIA SOCIETY HOLDS REGULAR MEETING

Caledonia, June 9—Mrs. Mae Underwood, Mrs. G. C. Elliott, Mrs. Anna Almendinger and Miss Emma Owens were guests of the Home and Foreign Missionary Society that met at the home of Mrs. Minnie Anderson Tuesday afternoon. The meeting opened with a piano selection "Meadow Brook" by Mrs. Almendinger. "The Rose in Scripture" found in Isaiah 35:1 and Solomon's Song 2:1 was conducted by Mrs. Molly Rinker followed with a song, "The Name of Jesus is so Sweet" and the regular order of business. Mrs. F. S. Fancher gave the study lesson, "Jesus and Nicodemus." The second chapter of "The Master Personality" by Dr. Walker. Mrs. Bessie Kearns and Mrs. Nellie Morrison were appointed as program committee for next meeting. A duet, "Somebody did a Golden Deed" by Mrs. Rinker and Mrs. Morrison closed the program. During the social hour Mrs. Anderson, assisted by Mrs. H. W. Underwood and Miss Owens served a nice lunch.

The July meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Morrison at Tide water.

MRS. J. M. SITES HOSTESS TO MISSIONARY SOCIETY

Prospect, June 9—Mrs. J. M. Sites was hostess to the Woman's Home Missionary Society of the Methodist Church, at her home east of town, Wednesday afternoon. The meeting opened by singing "Opening Eyes," Mrs. A. L. Gast read the Scripture, and Mrs. J. D. McKinney and Mrs. Mary Fox offered prayer. Mrs. Sites read the minutes.

Reports were given by the treasurer and the leader of Queen Esthers. The mite-box total is $70.24. It was decided to hold a bake sale on Saturday, June 18. REVIVAL SERVICE

Cottage Prayer Meetings Arranged With Oakland Church Series

Many were in attendance from Bucyrus at the revival service last night at Oakland Evangelical Church, when Rev. W. E. Petticord, Columbus, evangelist in charge, preached a sermon on the subject, "Nothing But God," taken from Romans, chapter six, verse 11. James E. Campbell and Clyde Kelly, who accompany Reverend Petticord, sang "I Am All Right Now," a duet, and Mr. Campbell a solo, "Because I Love Jesus."

Mr. Campbell conducted a special service for children and young people at the church at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon.

Cottage prayer meetings will be held in the following homes Friday morning. Delbert Borne, 530 Mound-st, C. E. Blair, 775 Oak Grove av, and A. Reed, 907 Uncapher-av. Prayer meetings are held each night preceding the service, Mr. Kelly conducting a special service for young people.

ENTERTAIN MEMBERS OF CIRCLE OF CHURCH

Mrs. C. M. Thoman entertained members of the Social Circle, St. Paul's English Lutheran Church, yesterday afternoon at her home, S. High-st. Eight members were in attendance. Following the business session a social hour and luncheon were enjoyed, Mrs. J. W. King assisting the hostess in serving. The next meeting will be held July 13 with Mrs. E. Rudolph at her home, Blaine-av.

NEED NOT SERVE

Women of the District of Columbia now have the right to serve on juries but may not be compelled to. The bill giving them the privilege of serving, which was signed by the president, reads: "Hereafter no person will be disqualified for service as a juror or jury commissioner by reason of sex provided that such service shall not be compulsory on any women."

Children Cry For Fletcher's CASTORIA

The Young Mother.

The ills of infants and children should be so well known to the youngest of mothers that a reminder or a repetition of the symptoms of illness seems unnecessary, yet there are some mothers who overlook a feverish condition, a little colic, or a disposition to be irritable. If not corrected they may lead to serious sickness. And to correct them, to bring Baby back to its happy self, is so easy by the use of Castoria—a medicine prepared just for infants and children. It will regulate the bowels (not force them), aid digestion and so bring quiet and rest.

Fletcher's Castoria has been doing this for over 30 years; regulating the stomach and bowels of infants and children. It has replaced the nauseating Castor Oil, so-called Soothing Syrups, poisonous Paregoric and other vicious concoctions in the homes of true and honest mothers—mothers who love their children.

Those mothers will give their babies foods and medicines especially prepared for infants and children.

To avoid imitations, always look for the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher Proven directions on each package. Physicians everywhere recommend it.

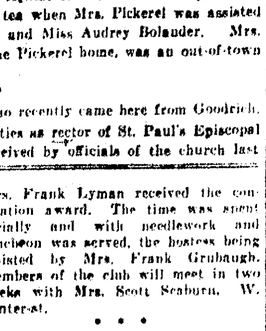
Women's Simpler Hygiene

More absorbent—
Discards like tissue

By ELLEN J. BUCKLAND
Registered Nurse



ALL the problems of old-time hygienic ways have recently been ended, largely because of a new way called Kotex.

✓ Kotex discards as easily as tissue. Thus no laundry, no embarrassment of disposal.

Being 5 times as absorbent as ordinary cotton "pads," you wear lightest gowns and frocks without slightest fear. Deodorizes, too, thus ending all fear of offense.

Obtain at any store without embarrassment simply by saying "Kotex." Many stores have it already wrapped on counters, ready for you to pick up and take along without even asking for it.

Try today and you'll never again risk the uncertainty of old ways. Box contains 12. Be sure you get the genuine. Only Kotex itself is "like" Kotex.

Larry drew a deep breath, then crossed softly to where Benna lay on the cushions, her face calm and peaceful in sleep, her lips parted slightly. He dropped down beside her gently, fearing lest he waken her, and thus he sat for a long time, feasting his eyes on her beauty, drinking in the delicate contour of her face, aching with the longing that was in him to clasp her close and taste once more of those yivid, fragrant lips.

After a time she stirred restlessly and in her movements she lay lightly against him, her head resting on his arm. Soon her breathing became deep again and he knew she slept soundly once more. Carefully, cautiously, he lowered his head and touched his lips in a caress as light as the fingers of fog on the mountain peaks, to her smooth, white forehead. He saw her face change in her sleep, a half-mile lighting it, and, as had happened once before, she whispered his name—"Larry."

Darkness fouds them thus and when the call from the muezzan floated through the night, bidding all to the prayer after dark, he rose softly and went to the window. He hoped there might possibly be further word from the kaid, who, without a doubt, was in league with Omar ben Medjad or Bou Hamara. But he heard only the soft murmurs of the acha, out in the gloom, and when at last silence fell again he walked back to Benna and touched her lightly on the shoulder.

She was awake instantly, regarding him with eyes that gleamed starlike in the gray gloom. He whispered:

"I have received a message, Little White Flower. It said that beneath these cushions a bar is hidden, sufficiently strong for me to pry loose the window."

She rose quickly and scattering the cushions he found a short, thick piece of iron. Lifting it he went to the window and inserted it between the bars, prying with all the strength of his powerful, well conditioned muscles. Under the strain his shoulders bunched and his biceps bulged in great knots, then there came a tearing, ripping clatter and the frame, its bars intact, came loose and fell to the floor with a crash. Carefully, ears attuned to the sounds of the night without, he listened. Then he heard what apparently was only an echo of the night, yet he distinguished words:

"The east gate of the kasbah, then fight your way through the Gate of the Burning."

He knew the kaid had returned to make sure the pair was making a try for freedom. He turned and motioned for the girl to join him and catching her in his arms he lifted her toward the opening. The contact of her soft, warm body thrilled him, as it ever did, and he mastered an almost overpowering desire to hold her thus at least long enough to drink, once, of her lips. Subconsciously he realized that she was yielding in his arms, ready to turn and yield to him further. Miserable, his mind chaotic, he braced himself and helped her through the window. An instant later he followed.

A glance at the stars and he knew which way was east; now he caught her hand and they moved forward rapidly across the court. Quickly they rounded the end of the kasbah and faced a small gate, where a soldier with levelled lance stood guard. To him Larry said:

"The Group!"

On the words the guard swept his lance aside and pointed toward the outside. Still clinging to Benna's hand, Larry hurried through, pausing only long enough to gain his bearings; then he turned north, in which direction he knew the Gate of the Burning lay and after a time they came to it. A knot of soldiers, lancers resting against the wall were there. The gate, Larry imagined, had been repaired. At least, it was again closed tightly.

He saw the kaid, the captain of a hundred who had winked at him, approach. The officer asked:

"The pass word?"

"The Group!" Larry said evenly, his heart pounding.

The kaid motioned for him to proceed, but before Larry and Benna could reach the gate the map of the evil visage joined them, crying sharply:

"Kaid el-mia what would you? Know you not that the rules forbid anyone leaving the karia after the ncha?"

Larry knew by the man's garb and bearing that he was nothing less than a kaid el-rahs, captain of a thousand, therefore the other kaid's superior.

"But they had the password," the minor kaid said.

"Which is null after the acha, fool, save for entrance and exit at the kasbah. Ha, it runs in my mind that here is the pair we imprisoned today. Come to the light, that I may see your face."

Now the wink which the kaid-el-mia threw at Larry was significant and he saw the fellow touch his sword silently, as though signalling. Larry sensed that the time for action had come. With a single motion he whipped out the sword of Beni Ahmed and presented its tip at the other's throat, its needle-like point almost grazing the leathery skin.

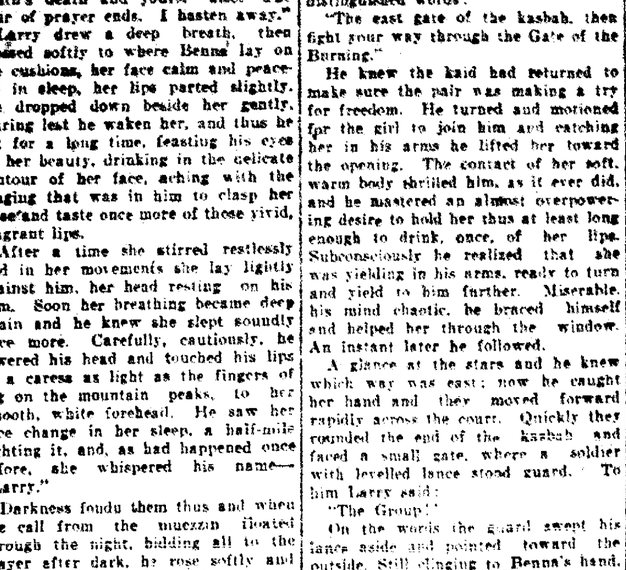
"I have a special dispensation of a nature granted to all wizards to go and come as I please, spawn of filth, offspring of a thousand worms," he said, harsh menace in his voice. "Bid your guards open the gate and permit me to depart, or by tomorrow's dawn they are liable to choose a new captain of a thousand."

"Wizard or no," said the other, stubbornly, his face blanching at the thrust of the needlepoint at his throat, "I am bade to hold you, and hold you I shall until one who is greater than I arrives on the morrow to judge you. If I die by your black magic it is as Allah wills but give the order, I shall not."

"Then, kaid," Larry cried, his voice hot, his every nerve cool, "you are prepared to abide by the consequences?"

"Ai, though they be death itself."

"You are brave, but likewise you are a fool," snapped Larry, not having it in his heart to kill deliberately one of such courage, and his sword swung in a wide arc the while he leaped for the gate. He called to Benna, and she, her own sword out, came to his side. With a yell the evil-faced kaid hurled a swift command and the guard closed in for the attack.



RHEUMATISM

May be relieved by rational treatment—it can not be rubbed away.

Are you one of those unfortunates who suffer with pains in your muscles and joints, making you miserable, less efficient, interfering with your working hours, ruining your sleep?

You may have tried many things without relief. Why not try S.S.S.? For more than 100 years it has been giving relief in thousands of cases, as testified to in unsolicited letters of gratitude.

"I suffered from rheumatism for a good many years. At times my joints would swell so, I couldn't walk. I tried almost everything. Went to Hot Springs . . . . then finally decided to try S.S.S. I took a course. In a short time the rheumatic pains entirely left me. I am now in perfect health, and want to add that I have tried all kinds of medicines but I think S.S.S. is the best." Earl C. Campbell, 115 West Main Street, Johnson City, Tenn.

S.S.S. is purely vegetable. It is extracted from the fresh roots of medicinal plants and herbs and gives to Nature what she needs, in building you up so that your system throws off the cause.

From youth to later years S.S.S. is a proven tonic—give it and take it where a tonic is indicated.

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.—Adv.

Creamed Tuna a la King
Tea Biscuits
Fruit Salad — Salad Wafers

TODAY'S RECIPES

Creamed Tuna a la King—Make a white sauce, using two cups of milk, two tablespoons of butter and two tablespoons of flour. When the sauce has cooked place in the top of double boiler and add one can of tuna, flaked, one cup of peas, two hard boiled eggs cut in small pieces and bits of pimento. Leave over hot water until ready to serve. This may be prepared before guests arrive. Serve on hot biscuit, crisp toast or in patty shells.

Salad Wafers—Place fresh, crisp saltines on a flat cake pan. Put a marshmallow in the center of each saltine and sprinkle with grated bitter chocolate. Put in the broiling oven under the flame until the chocolate has melted and the marshmallow is browned. Allow two of these wafers for each person served. These are good when served with a salad containing oranges pineapple and cooked pears.

HOUSEKEEPER RETIRES

Mrs. Graham, housekeeper of Chequers, country place of England's prime ministers, has retired. She was housekeeper for Lloyd George during war days, then of Ramsay MacDonald and next of Stanley Baldwin. Thus she served a liberal, a labor and a conservative premier. She has been called "minister of the interior" because of her duties in looking after the health of prime ministers.

Love's Embers

A Sequel to "Revelations of a Wife"

BY ADELE GARRISON

Madge Has an Adventure

I HALF started to my feet in anger as I came to the conclusion that Dicky must have told the red-bearded man of the time of my projected journey into the city. Then I sank back again quickly as I realized that any unusual movement or display of emotion of any kind would bring upon me the curious stares of the people in the Long Island waiting room where I was seated. Yet I was furiously angry nevertheless. Was it the red-bearded man, who so patently was an old acquaintance of his army days, to watch my movements and report to him upon them?

I had the grace to be ashamed of that particular suspicion when my anger began to recede. Dicky never could be guilty of an action like that. But I did not abandon my conviction that the man knew of my journey through Dicky.

I glanced at my wrist-watch again and saw that I had almost an hour to spare before I would have to take a taxi to Mr. Veritzen's offices. I had planned to go to Lillian's in the interim, if a telephone call should tell me that she was at home, but I suddenly changed my plans. I could not find out what Dicky had told the red-bearded man concerning my journey, but I resolved to watch the station closely during the half hour that remained before the Montauk train pulled out, and find out, if possible, why this bizarre new neighbor of ours had come one hundred miles on a train only to sit half an hour in the station and travel back upon it again.

Of course, there was but one plausible answer, and that was that he expected to meet someone in that half hour, or—more probably—watch someone, himself unknown.

I knew that there were seats in that outer waiting room which commanded a view of the bench upon which the red-haired man had stationed himself. The room was so large that by using a little finesse I believed I could gain a vantage point without being seen by the red-bearded man. And there I meant to watch and wait until the Montauk train should pull out.

I consulted my general Long Island time-table which I always carry with me, and found that a local suburban train to a nearby golf resort would leave in a few minutes, and resolved to take advantage of the movement of passengers toward it to screen my own movements. I purchased a Sunday newspaper at the stand, in order more fully to equip me for my ruse, and was returning to my seat near the checking booth when I felt a violent impact against my side which almost knocked me down.

I staggered, caught at the back of a bench, and recovered my balance, and then turned with natural indignation to confront a most apologetic and distressed young man who was holding the collar of a wonderful Russian wolfhound.

"Mademoiselle, I crave a thousand pardons," he said in excellent English, only the odd form of address betraying some alien nationality. "I thought I had Fedor upon a leash sufficiently short, but I miscalculated. Are you hurt?"

I don't think any woman could have remained angry at him, he was so personable, so engaging, and, apparently, so genuinely distressed.

"I am not hurt at all," I said with a little smile, "but I do think you should have an active an animal upon as extremely short leash. He might have knocked down a little child or an old person with grave consequences."

"I know I am desolated," he returned. "I shall not let go his collar again until I get him on the train."

He turned to two porters who accompanied him.

"My bag checks are in my left hand coat pocket," he said. "Take them out and get my things. You are sure you are not hurt, mademoiselle?"

"Very sure," I reassured him and then, as the people near me began to move toward the suburban train, I too, and taking advantage of the crowd, gained a seat much nearer the red-bearded man than I had hoped.

CARPENTER HAD TO LIMIT SELF TO LIGHT WORK

Pains in His Back Made It Dangerous For Him to Work on Scaffold.

Many afflictions come from a disordered stomach, kidneys and liver. Among them are shortness of breath, indigestion, gas, bloating, constipation, headaches, dizzy spells and pains in the back. For such troubles there is nothing better than Redwood's Tepee Tonic. Thousands recommend it.

REDWOOD

Homer Jenkins, carpenter, 508 Lincoln Way, East South Bend, Ind. says: "I suffered with stomach and kidney trouble for several years and no medicine I had ever taken had given me any relief. When I first heard about Redwood's Tepee Tonic I was interested and tried it with the most gratifying results.

"Before I took Redwood's Tepee Tonic my back was almost killing me. I couldn't reach up high enough to nail on a door jam and I was afraid to work on a scaffold for fear of getting dizzy and falling off. I can do twice as much work, thanks to Redwood' Tepee Tonic, and don't feel half as tired.

"My pains are all gone. I eat heartily and my stomach does not hurt me. My bowels are regular and I don't have to take pills every night."

Redwood's Tepee Herb Tonic is recommended and sold by Bradley's, Heaney & Cooper's, Wm. M. Stump, Bartlett's, and all drug stores; Richwood, H. D. Kyle and Lower's Drug Store, and by well stocked druggists everywhere. Adv.

Many lassies have "a way with 'em" that attracts friends, but one with radiantly lovely complexion, like Miss Billie Watson, 1332 Dean St., Brooklyn, N. Y., enjoys added popularity. She says: "I don't know what I'd do without Black and White Peroxide (Vanishing) Cream. It protects my skin wonderfully and keeps it delicately soft and fair in all weathers. Over it my face powder clings smoothly and lastingly, giving my complexion a lovely satin texture."

Black and White Peroxide (Vanishing) Cream, fluffy and pure as a snowflake, is one of the high quality Black and White Beauty Creations such as the Cleansing Cream, Beauty Bleach, Cold Cream, Face Powder, etc., which you can get from dealers everywhere at the low 50c and 25c prices.

If your dealer doesn't have the Black and White Beauty Creations you want, send his name to Plough, Dept. 87, Memphis, Tenn., and you will receive free a copy of the Birthday and Dream Book, containing many interesting facts on beauty, dreams and fortune telling.

Work of Preparing Bond Legislation Arduous Task

Preparation of legislation on bond issues for improvements in Marion and other counties in Ohio is nothing short of a Chinese puzzle for those not legally trained or persons that have not studied at great length the various laws governing this work.

This is indicated in the work done by T. A. O'Leary, clerk of the Marion County Board of Commissioners in connection with the bond issue for the East River-Cardington-rd. the last bond issue sold by county commissioners. This is a fair sample of the requirement for all issues.

Even to those who are considered an authority on bond legislation this work presents a difficult task due to the fact that at each session of the state legislature the laws governing this work are tinkered with and alterations made, Mr. O'Leary pointed out.

Manuals issued for the benefit of public officials by authorities on matters pertaining to the issuance of bonds as a rule become obsolete following each session of the legislature, county officials claim.

Sounds Simple

Issuance of bonds to the layman sounds simple enough but to learn the work that goes into it he needs but to visit an office where such legislation is prepared.

The procedure is something like this:

In the case of roads and ditches the improvement upon which the bond issue is based is initiated by petition of interested land owners. County commissioners and other officials having authority to issue bonds are governed entirely in their actions by statute, so each step must be in conformity to the law.

Certain notices must be given the interested land owners and a certain time is required to elapse after notices have been given before the other proceedings may be carried out. Then when the matter has reached the point of issuing the bonds the person making out the bond legislation must review the former proceedings and quote the sections of law authorizing the different steps.

Schedule Required

The person is further required to make out a schedule of bonds substantially equal in annual or semi-annual installments. The length of time for which the bonds may be issued is limited by statute. In the case of ditches not more than five years can be given and in the case of road improvements not more than 10 years. Before adopting this resolution the bond issuing authorities must have a certificate of the fiscal authority of the subdivision as to the life of the proposed improvement and the maturities of the bonds which may be issued.

In the issuance of this certificate the fiscal authority must be guided by the statute. The auditor is the fiscal authority of the county.

Then after the bond issue has been authorized the bond issuing authority must borrow on short time notes the money necessary to make the improvement, and then advertise and sell the work. After the contract has been let and the actual cost of construction has been ascertained this is added to all the incidental items in connection with the improvement, such as the cost of advertising, the printing of bonds, interest charges, etc. The sum total of all this represents the aggregate cost of the improvement.

Amendments Essential

After the aggregate cost of the improvement has been ascertained the law requires that the original bond resolutions be amended reducing the amount of the issue to conform to the actual cost so that there shall not be collected in the way of taxes any more than is required to pay for the actual cost of the improvement.

Then having done this the law requires that this issue be offered to the local board of sinking fund trustees which has the privilege to purchase a part or all of the issue at a price not less than par and accrued interest. In the event the sinking fund trustees decline to purchase any or all of the issue such part not taken must be advertised and sold to the highest bidder at a price not less than par and accrued interest.

A recent law enacted at the last session of the legislature requires that the issue be submitted to the teacher's retirement system after being offered to the sinking fund trustees and then, in the event this system does not take the issue, it can be advertised. A similar law which granted this privilege to the industrial commission of Ohio was declared unconstitutional two years ago.

Must Furnish Record

After the bonds have been advertised and awarded to the highest bidder the purchaser always stipulates that he shall be furnished a transcript of all the various proceedings to the satisfaction of his approving attorneys.

This transcript contains a complete record of all the proceedings and includes copies of all advertisements, the offer and rejection of bonds by the sinking fund trustees, copy of advertisement of bonds, copy of the bid on which the contract was awarded and a copy of the contract, as well as a financial statement of each subdivision involved in the proceedings. Also there must be supplied a certificate as to the title to office of the various officials whose acts are necessary to the valid issuance of the bonds and a certificate that there is not litigation pending or threatened which questions the validity of the issue or the title to office of any official whose official act is necessary to the issue of the bonds.

Having done all this to the approval of the approving attorneys the bonds are then ready for delivery.

KILLS BEAR WITH ROLLING PIN.

Making use of a rolling pin with which she was making a pie crust, Miss Helen Disco killed a crazed bear when the animal suddenly rushed through the door of a summer kitchen and attacked her on the Disco farm 15 miles north of Draper, Wisc. Miss Disco escaped with only a few minor scratches on her arms. She believes the bear had become crazed since bears, although numerous in that district, seldom display an inclination to attack humans.

CHILDREN'S DIET

The diet of little children is built around milk and cereal. If a child is permitted to form a taste for concentrated, highly flavored foods, he will not want to eat the milder flavored foods he should have.

PREVENTS RUST

When putting irons away for any length of time, rub them with a little fat that contains no salt, such as mutton fat or lard. Then wrap them in brown paper. This will prevent rust.

Ambition is a great urge, and it requires judgment to direct it.

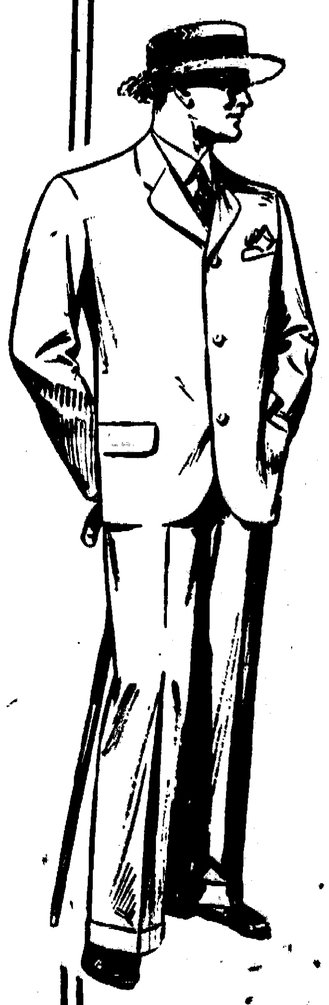
CLOTHES



When men who have been paying $50 for clothes come to this store, in a more or less skeptical frame of mind, they quickly realize that Richman's Clothes are greatly underpriced—that they equal in style, fit, quality of woolens, and fine tailoring, the clothes they have been buying at much higher figures. See these fine clothes and judge for yourself.

Thousands of suits, fresh from our factories, in seasonable weights and shades—Wanskuck's fine serges, serviceable worsteds, silky cassimeres, "rough and ready" cheviots, and the sturdy new double-twist weaves. New shades of gray, tan and brown, smart, deep-dyed blues, colorful mixtures—you'll find any weave and coloring you like in the Richman stores.

Men hard to fit are surprised to see how quickly and easily they can find just the right style, proportions and size in Richman's Clothes—they are made in many models, and eleven proportional groups, with a complete range of sizes in each group.

Richmen's Clothes are sold everywhere at one standard price—$22.50 for unrestricted choice of any suit, topcoat or tuxedo with silk dress vest.

BEHIND THE SCREEN

Janet Gaynor.

NOW that "Seventh Heaven," the new movie which has provoked so much comment has been released for public viewing, a pathetic incident, revealing a cruel jest of life, comes to light. When Janet Gaynor, the star of "Seventh Heaven," who is attracting attention by her acting in the leading role, was going to school, one of her teachers in the public schools of Philadelphia discovered her exceptional talent and straightway made herself the girl's mentor. It was this woman, who after directing Miss Gaynor's education until she was graduated from high school, steered her to Hollywood, sending her checks regularly to tide the youngster over the bad times as an "extra" all this with the strongest faith in her final success. Miss Gaynor, however, was deriving adequate income from her "extras" and never cashed these checks.

The climax of the story of the older woman's faith in the younger came on the night that "Seventh Heaven" opened in New York. One of the best seats in the house was occupied by the Fairy Godmother. Several times during the action of the picture she heard the audience applaud her protege and during the intermission she eagerly listened to comments which were proclaiming Miss Gaynor's ability as a screen artist. But of the triumph itself—Miss Gaynor's portrayal of the role of Diane—she saw nothing. Two months earlier she had been stricken and the eyes which she turned toward the screen were sightless.

Olga Baklanova, member of the Moscow Art Theater, will play the leading role opposite Emil Jannings in his next motion picture, "Hitting for Heaven."

Noah Beery who played Sergeant Lejaune in "Beau Geste," will have an important role in "Beau Sabreur."

For the first time in their screen careers the Costello sisters, Dolores and Helene, will appear together in the same picture, "The Heart of Maryland," the old Belasco play.

Flobelle Fairbanks, niece of Douglas Fairbanks, will play opposite Warner Oland in Mary Roberts Rinehart's story, "What Happened to Father," which has been revised for the screen.

Roy d'Arcy will have an important role in support of Ronan Novarro in the screen version of Joseph Conrad's famous story "Romance."

HARDING TOMB MARBLE COMES HERE OVER ERIE

Three Carloads of Material Including Pillars Taken to Memorial Site

The vicinity of the Erie freight house was again the scene of the unloading of marble for the Harding Memorial yesterday, three cars being emptied.

The derrick was used on two of the cars, the pillars of marble being too heavy to handle in any other manner. Using the wrecker, the Erie men lifted the huge pillars from the car and placed them in the trucks from the Memorial. The pillars are then lifted from the trucks with another derrick at the scene of the tomb and put in place without ever touching the ground.

A third car of smaller pieces was unloaded by hand.

The marble comes from quarries in Georgia and the Erie has been handling the material. A number of interested by-standers is always on hand to watch the huge pillars carried through the air from the car to the truck.

Vacation literature is being distributed in Marion, all railroads presenting various offers and suggestions for those who have not yet made up their minds just where they will go this summer.

Crack Train on Time

The Southwestern Limited, crack train of the Big Four, has been on time every day this week since its change in schedule last Sunday. The change cut 15 minutes of its running time from New York to St. Louis. Two other changes in time were also made and a through sleeping car is being carried on the 11 o'clock Big Four train out of New York each night for this city.

Repairs Completed

Repair work on the Big Four crossing at N. Greenwood st. has been completed.

Work Under Way

Work on the city surveyors' lines on Davids st. is well under way since the unloading of new rail in that vicinity yesterday. The track is to be relayed from Woodlawn to Center st. The southern section already has been repaired.

TO ATTEND GRADUATION AT WITTENBERG COLLEGE

Caledonia, June 9—Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Crum left yesterday for Springfield, where they met their son-in-law and daughter, Rev. and Mrs. A. C. Knudten and two little daughters of Chicago.

Rev. Knudten and family have been visiting at the home of his parents in Chicago since June 2, when they returned from Yokohoma, Japan, where they have spent the past six and one-half years in missionary work. On Thursday, the party will attend commencement exercises at Wittenberg College. Miss Donna Crum daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Crum and sister of Mrs. Knudten, and Miss Helena Hart of Marion a former Caledonia girl are members of the graduating class. Dr. Crum's accompanied by their guests will return to Caledonia Thursday night, and on Friday night Rev. and Mrs. Knudten and children will be honored with a reception to be given at the Memorial M. E. Church, under the auspices of the Ladies Aid Society.

MARION MERCHANTS TO GO TO MANSFIELD MEET

A large number of Marion shoe and clothing merchants are making arrangements to attend a district sales promotion meeting planned by the Ohio Retail Merchants' Bureau, to be held in Mansfield next Wednesday, it was announced here today.

The Marion delegation is expected to make the trip to the Richland County city in automobiles. Among those who have made definite arrangements for the trip are Earl T. Smart, Homer R. Wandell and Sam Rosenberg.

Look at your SHOES!

A shoe unshined is like a face unshaved, teeth unbrushed, hair uncombed!

Nothing can make you look so seedy as dull, dusty, unshined shoes. Why look shabby when in two minutes—with Shinola or 2 in 1 Shoe Polish—you can put on a shine you can see your face in!

PLAN SECOND AUTO DERBY ON UPPER TRACK

Stunt Aviator Feature on Program at Fairground Sunday

Upper Sandusky, June 9—Final arrangements have been completed for the second annual motor derby, to be staged at the fairground Sunday under the auspices of the American Legion.

Thousands of spectators who attended the derby last year will recall the thrilling events and breath taking episodes of this troupe, whose feats number among the most daring and death defying known to the motor world.

One of the biggest drawing cards is the aerial stunts of George Babcock, who ranks foremost among the world's famous aerial acrobats, appeared here last year and fairly took the crowd's breath away with his performances on an airplane while in midair. Such feats as hanging by his feet from a trapeze attached to the lower wing of the plane, hanging by his teeth at the end of a rope fastened to the axle, making a phantom fall and finally a parachute drop featured his program of stunts last year. His most daring stunt is standing erect on the top wing of the plane while it makes a complete loop. He states that he has some new thrillers in store for fans this year.

Plan Races

Other features of entertainment are motorcycle racing and auto polo. Two sets of races are scheduled, two mile and three mile. The track is in excellent condition having been dragged and scraped. The riders are given an extra lap around to secure speed and make a flying start.

The event last year ended in a near catastrophe when on Monday, the day after the main races, one of the planes piloted by Walter Bullock and carrying William Olpp, Jr., this city as passenger, crashed to the ground from the height of 1500 feet.

The two men miraculously escaped with several broken bones, cuts and bruises.

CARMI A. THOMPSON TO SPEAK AT BUCYRUS MEET

Headquarters Selected for Gathering of Spanish War Veterans

Bucyrus, June 9—Announcement that Commander-in-Chief Rice W. Means, former senator from Colorado, who was scheduled to give the memorial address at the Spanish-American War Veterans convention will not deliver the address was made by Charles F. Schaber, chairman of the committee.

Carmi A. Thompson, post commander-in-chief of Cleveland, will give the address in place of Means. In announcing the completed program this morning, Schaber stated that an effort is being made through Adjutant General Henderson to secure the assignment of the 134th Field Artillery and Medical Corps to service here during the convention. It is planned to have a medical relief camp maintained on the square by the medical corps.

Four complete sets of badges for those attending the convention have been received by the committee. One set is for the delegates, one set for the ladies, one set for visitors, and one set for the members of the Military Order of the Serpent.

Headquarters of the different organizations was announced yesterday as follows: Department headquarters will be at the Highway Hotel, the ladies' auxiliary at the Royal Hotel and the Military Order of Serpents at the Elberson.

COUNTY W.C.T.U. HOLDS ANNUAL PICNIC AT HOME

Mrs. Anna Sweatland Presides at Gathering of Morrow Group

Iberia, June 9—The Morrow County W. C. T. U. held their annual flower mission picnic at the Morrow County Home Wednesday. The persons attending from Iberia were Mrs. A. J. Craley, Mrs K. R. Grooms, Miss Marie Thatcher, Mrs. J. H. Morrison, Mrs. Chauncey Ott, Mrs. Rosa Mead, Mrs. Harry Mead and Dr. and Mrs. L. L. Fisher.

There were 91 visitors, besides a number of small children present. These came with well filled baskets for a sumptuous picnic dinner for the visitors, and the inmates of the home.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Swisher, who have been in charge of the home for five years, had made preparation to welcome the visitors. Mrs. W. W. Powell, of Cardington, superintendent of relief work, had planned the meeting and program.

The rooms were decorated with flowers, which the visitors had taken for the inmates. The inmates' table was also decorated with flowers. In the center of this table was a cake and each plate was laden with good things. When everything was in readiness, "Praise God" was sung and Mrs. R. A. Sweatland of Sparta, president of the Morrow County W. C. T. U., returned thanks.

When the visitors' dinner was ready, Rev. L. C. McFarlin, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church of Sparta, was called on to return thanks.

Mrs. Sweatland Presides

Mrs. Sweatland presided at the program presented after dinner. Miss Grace Lewis of Mt. Vernon sang, "Jesus a Friend of Mine." The chairman then called the names of the auxiliaries, who responded. Mrs Ella Snapp, accompanied by Mrs. Mary Mateer, responded with a song for Alum Creek; Mrs. Hazel Brown, accompanied by Mrs. L. C. McFarlin, sang, "Don't Forget the Promise Made to Mother," when Bloomfield was called; for Cardington, Mrs. Julia Long read, "Who Cares"; Fargo responded with a five dollar check. When Iberia was called, no one responded and the chairman called on Dr. Fisher, who responded with a few remarks. Mr. Charles McFarland of Galion was called and responded by reading, "The Mother's Advice Was Wrong." Rev. L. C. McFarlin was called and responded with a few remarks. Mrs. Sadie Flemming, accompanied by Mrs. Ella Hartsook, represented Cardington by singing, "Motherland." At this time J. C. Fleming of Cardington introduced Rev. and Mrs. E. F. Whitman, evangelists, who has been working in Florida, and they sang three or four choruses, after which Rev. Whitman made a short address. Mt. Gilead was represented by Miss Sylvia Colmery, who sang, "In An Old Fashioned Town," and "It Isn't Raining Rain to Me." Mrs. Perry Cook read, "The House by the Side of the Road," and Mrs. A. A. Colmery gave the answer, "With the Crowd in the Road." Mrs. Dora Harris and Mrs. L. C. McFarland of Sparta sang "Nailed to the Cross." Little Miss Virginia Wood represented Quakerdom and sang, "Somewhere It Is Always Bright and Sunny."

A vote of thanks was given to Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Powell and Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Swisher. "Till We Meet Again" was sung and Mrs. Sweatland offered prayer.

Mr Swisher reported that there were 28 inmates now in the home.

ONE PETITION IS FILED FOR GALION ELECTION

Jacob Keene in Race for Re-election as Auditor of City

Galion, June 9—In spite of the fact that Friday night is the latest date at which declaratory petitions for local offices may be filed only one petition has been turned in to committee headquarters. Jacob Keene has announced himself as a candidate for re-election as city auditor a position which he has held for many years.

Interest in the coming election seems lagging and only a few office seekers have announced their intentions. C. A. Castle, Leo Wildenthaler, and J. C. Roth will be in the race for council positions and will be placed on the Democratic ticket. Edward Hoeckstra is the only Republican council aspirant and Henry Groh will appear as a candidate on the township ticket for re-election as township trustee.

Members of the political committees are urging more to take an active interest in the coming campaign and the Democrats held a meeting last night at the city hall at which time necessary campaign measures were discussed. C. F. Eise of the city central committee was in charge.

O. G. Petri of this city is a member of the county election board and is in charge of the petition filing and ballot printing for the local election.

BUCYRUS MAN NAMED MEMBER OF COMMITTEE

Charles F. Schaber Receives Notice of Appointment from Donahey

Bucyrus, June 9—Charles F. Schaber, Bucyrus attorney and chairman of the committee arranging for the Spanish War Veterans' convention here, was appointed a member of the United States Spanish War Veterans' memorial commission by Gov. Vic Donahey yesterday. When informed of his appointment last night, Schaber was somewhat surprised, although he stated that he had acted as chairman of the legislative committee of the Spanish War Veterans, which secured the passage of the Forney bill providing for the erection of a $10,000 memorial to Spanish War veterans on the statehouse grounds. The bill was passed at the last session of the legislature.

"Ohio has never erected a memorial to the soldiers of the Spanish-American war and while we have memorials for soldiers of the other wars, we have been allowed to forget the boys of '98. Believing that the state should have a memorial to all its soldiers we asked the legislature for the memorial," Schaber explained.

Several proposed memorials have been submitted to the members of the legislative committee and will undoubtedly be considered by the governor's commission.

2,300 BAFFLED BY FEATS IN LEGERDEMAIN

Things Disappear, Then Appear; What's True Is False; Every Guess Wrong

Kenton, June 9—Under the spell of the uncanny whatever-it-is they possess, more than 2,300 souls sat jammed in the tented hall of magic here for more than three hours last night and marvelled at and were mystified by the baffling and mysterious tricks and innumerable feats of legerdemain, performed by the leading lights and their disciples—no less—in the world of magic.

It was the first nightly public performance featuring the second annual convention of the International Brotherhood of Magicians which opened here yesterday and is to continue through Friday. Other shows are to be given tonight and Friday night with a matinee Friday afternoon.

Strange animals were liberated from hats last night and stranger visitations of the grotesque starkly stalked as though through an Edgar Allen Poe poem.

"Presto; It's Gone"

And in some instances articles even to living things, were caused to vanish in air. Take for instance when Blackstone, "The Great Blackstone," probably the greatest outstanding magician at the conclave, stood before us startled and dumfounded audience and caused not only a live bird, but the cage which held it as well, to disappear.

Other brilliant ones, including one of his newest, "The Man Who Walks Away from His Shadow," were uncorked by Blackstone, headliner on the program, and he received a big hand.

Then there was T. Nelson Downs Marshalltown, Ia., a veteran in the game, who came out of twelve years' retirement to honor the program. He was content with mystifying by pulling coins from out of the air and off bald heads. The act of Richard Dawson, Lakeport, N. H., in liberating himself after being securely tied, handcuffed, placed in a sack and locked trunk, was phenomenal.

Many Others on Bill

Other tricksters of note delighted with their innumerable card and coin tricks, shadowgraphs, mental telepathy, rag pictures and others too numerous to mention. The Hudpuppets, from the Johnny J. Jones shows, "Terrini," Los Angeles, R. G. Herrman, Wapakoneta, Frank Keller, Erie, Pa., Elmer Eckam, Rochester, J. J. Isberger, Harrisburg, Pa., Colin & Colon, Harrisburg, Jean Foley, Pittsburgh, Dr. Roy DeSart, Mason City, Ia., Ada Duval, Chicago, and Evans Brown, Connersville, Ill., were included among the performers.

W. F. Dornfield, known professionally as "Dorny," of Chicago, was master of ceremonies. His contribution to the program was, "Magical Memories," a prologue.

Preceding the show food was caused to disappear as a result of the natural sequence of knife and fork, as the visiting magi and their honored guests gathered for the convention banquet in the armory. W. W. Durbin, convention president, was chairman.

Notables Attend

Among the distinguished guests were: Sen. Frank B. Willis, Cyrus Locher, Columbus, director of commerce, James W. Huffman, member of the public utilities commission, and other state officials.

During the afternoon the illustrious illusionists discarded their mantles of superhuman powers and bowed their heads during public memorial services in tribute to those who have been called upon to participate in the strangest of all life's vicisitudes—death.

In executive session the convention unanimously elected Col. Charles Lindbergh, of New York to Paris flight fame, Clarence D. Chamberlin and Charles A. Levine, Americans who recently completed a flight to Berlin, as honorary members of the international brotherhood and ordered congratulatory messages sent to each of them.

Result of "Day Dream"

The now famous organization of magicians and mystery men known as the Interational Brotherhood of Magicians, was born out of the "day dreams" of Len Vintus, Winnipeg, Manitoba, Canada, and Gene Gordon, Ida Grove, Ia., both of whom are now high officials in the organizatoin.

It was six years ago that the two first conceived the idea of uniting those interested in the ancient art of deception for the promulgation of their hobby and for the discussion and exchange of ideas; and last year their "dreams" came true in the first convention of the organization held in Kenton last year.

In the beginning the fraternal group of the princes of legerdemain comprised less than fifty members but today it has grown, mainly through the efforts of W. W. Durbin, Kenton Brotherhood president, and his workers, to include more than 1,800 members and to extend into every state of the Union and into many foreign countries.

RHEUMATISM HAS VANISHED SINCE HE GOT KONJOLA

Celebrated Medicine Ended Rheumatic Suffering of 4 Years, States Marion Citizen

Countless men and women of Marion and vicinity are turning to this remarkable new Konjola for relief in cases of stomach, liver, kidneys and bowel disorders and rheumatic troubles. This surprising remedy has brought such great results within a few short weeks that many grateful statements are already on record from the people of Marion who have been restored to health.

The latest indorsement came from Mr. W. E. Grubb, 345 Windsor Street, this city, a well-known citizen who gave his report in person to the Konjola Man at the Stump & Sams Pharmacy, 121 South Main Street, where large crowds are calling daily to find out for themselves about this celebrated compound.

"Konjola ended the rheumatism which I had been suffering over four years," said Mr. Grubb, "and I have improved in many other ways from the use of this medicine.

"My arms and back was affected with rheumatism. The joints of my elbows and shoulders were so stiff and sore that I was unable to raise my hand above my head. The muscles in my back seemed to pull and draw, causing sharp pains across my hips. When I attempted to bend over I was sure to suffer intense pains. It was impossible to sleep at nights, because these miseries stayed with me almost every hour. When I did sleep it was only in short spells.

"Well, I started taking Konjola and got relief almost at once. Then I continued with this medicine and now I can use my arms without having pains and the swelling in my elbows has gone entirely. My shoulders are not stiff and achy like they were before. I sleep good, and my appetite is better.

"Yes, my rheumatism has vanished and my health has improved in every way, so I gladly indorse this new Konjola after such results."

Clicquot Club Ginger Ale

Aged 6 months

—the exact time necessary to secure the finest quality

Clicquot Club Ginger Ale

Golden or Pale Dry

TO suit your taste or the time, you need only say "Clicquot Club." And whether your choice be the rich, full-flavored Golden or the delicate Pale Dry, you are sure of the same mellow flavor that is the result of six months' aging . . . . away from light and air.

The name Clicquot Club is your guaranty of the worth of a product whose ingredients are skillfully blended with water of virgin purity from a natural source, and properly aged.

Only the crystal liquid from the famous Clicquot Spring is used in making these two types of the supreme ginger ale. With this, according to a secret formula which cannot be duplicated, are blended the choicest of flavorings. And a six-months' aging gives these ingredients a chance to thoroughly blend into a full flowering of the unequalled Clicquot Club flavor.

All of this is carried out in the spirit of true craftsmanship, and under expert supervision, at every step of the process.

For more than forty years this healthful beverage has been the prime favorite of those who know and appreciate "vintage" ginger ale.

SPORT SAUCE

BY EDDIE SCHOENLEB

WHEN athletics are renewed in North Central Ohio League high school circles next fall, two new athletic directors and coaches will be found among the six schools. They are Coach Dewey N. Bobyer of Harding High and Sidney B. Boyd of Ashland High.

Both were assistants in athletics of their respective schools last year and both succeed men who have been with the North Central Ohio League for a number of years.

A few days ago, it was announced here that Bobyer would succeed Coach Sprout who had been football mentor at Harding High for four years. Yesterday it was announced that Boyd would succeed Harry J. Barnhart as athletic director of Ashland High, Barnhart having resigned to accept a position with Findlay College. Boyd will handle both basketball and football and will have as his assistant, Roscoe K. Miller, present coach of Applecreek High School, who takes the place vacated by Boyd.

Each coach is familiar with the athletes of each school and will know the ability of every man from last year. As a result, there will be no great confliction of ideas and the coaches will not have to start from the ground up for the first few weeks, as is usually the case when a new athletic director is engaged.

Although no positive statement has yet been made, it is understood that Coach Allen "Baldy" Compton will be on hand again next year to take over basketball activities here. He developed a wonderful team last season and one that almost took the Central Ohio district championship. Only two men will be missing next season and Harding may easily expect one of its greatest cage outfits in recent years.

No word has been received here about any other changes in N. C. O. League schools and at this late date it is more than probable that no other changes will be made.

A FEW months ago, H. R. Townsend, high school commissioner of athletics in Ohio, told the world that he was going to conduct a revival in high school baseball throughout the state during the next two years.

From reports in this vicinity, something about baseball is certainly in need of reviving.

Ashland High has one of the best high school baseball teams developed there in years but the first row of the bleachers has not been filled on any one occasion this season. The team has the spirit but it takes more than a hand full of fans to keep up even the best team's interest.

HARRY HOWLETT, manager of the Detroit Clowns, who are to appear here against the Marion Athletics Sunday, have booked Eddie Cicotte, famous White Sox pitcher who became one of the "Black Sox" in the scandal of 1919, as a regular on their pitching staff for the season.

That was the announcement made today by the Clown manager and Cicotte will probably be here with the Detroit outfit.

However, due to the fact that Cicotte is still outlawed from organized baseball, Manager Francis W. Baron of the Athletics has deemed it best to not allow the Clowns to use him as a moundsman in Sunday's game.

WHITE GOES TO REDS

New York, June 9—Johnny White, shortstop of the Fordham University nine, has been signed by the Cincinnati Reds. He will report to the team today.

Gardner Tap & Die Nine Trims Fairfield; Calvary No. 2 Trounces Reforms

All Postponed Games Are Played with Exception of Shovel-Osgood Clash in Industrial League; Gardners in Tie with C., D. & M.

WHILE the Excavators continue on their merry way through the Association, the Erie Office and the Switchmen are stepping along only one lap behind. The three teams turned in more victories last night and the Excavators still lead the league with four wins and no defeats. The other two are in a deadlock for second place with three victories and one defeat.

And the sad part of the story may be found in the lower section of the standing where the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks and American Legion are sunk in last place with no wins and four defeats. The Howitzers have broken even with two victories and two downfalls.

The Brotherhood of Railway Clerks was helpless before the driving attack of the Excavators at Central Junior last night and fell, 10 to 1. The Erie Office continued its hitting spree and seems to have made a rule to deal with nothing but high scores. It trimmed the Howitzer outfit 18 to 1.

Switchmen Win

The best game of the three was staged between the Switchmen and American Legion, although the total number of men taking part in the contest amounted to only 14 instead of the regulation 18. The Legion played with six men and the Switchmen used eight. The final score was 5 to 3, with Switchmen on top.

The Erie Office is fast becoming famous for its sluggers. In the last two games the boys on that outfit have totaled 39 hits and 36 runs. Colvin, pitching for the Erie, allowed Howitzers only six hits. Art Amick was the gentleman whose deliveries were knocked all over the lot. Few errors were made in the contest.

White Midlam was allowing the B. of R. C. team only three hits, his teammates, the Excavators, were collecting 15 in the lop-sided contest at Central Junior last night. Gilmore pitched for the Clerks.

Legion Uses Six Men

The American Legion played its best game of the season last night, although it used only six men. But the Erie Switchmen collected nine hits off Knappenberger and scored five runs while the Legion was forced to be content with six hits and three runs off Greenland.

Two other games were played last night, Calvary No. 2 turning in its first victory of the season in a postponed game with First Reformed in the second Sunday School League and the Gardner Tap & Die Co. winning a postponed contest from Fairfield Engineers, in the Industrial League.

Tap & Die Wins

As a result of its 3 to 1 win, the Tap & Die team goes into a tie with the C., D. & M. for second place in the Industrial League, having won three games and lost one. The Steam Shovel Shops still lead the league with three victories and no defeats but have a postponed game with the Osgoods. When that tilt is played off next Wednesday, all leagues will be up to date in their schedule for the first time this season, providing it doesn't rain on either of the series of games tonight or Friday.

Four teams are tied for last place in the second Sunday School league as a result of the Calvary outfit springing a surprise and actually winning a game. The final score was 11 to 3, First Reforms being the victims. Cline pitched for the winners.

Detroit Clowns to Play Athletics Sunday

BASEBALL GAME AND CIRCUS TO BE PRESENTED

Famous Comedians as Well as Ball Players Coming Here

CIRCUS clowns will be prominent in Marion Monday when the Hagenback-Wallace circus comes to town but baseball clowns will predominate at Lincoln Park a day earlier, when the Detroit Clowns invade this city for a game with the Marion Athletics.

Harry Howlett's Detroit Clowns originated in 1914 and have been one of baseball's greatest attractions since that time. They are professional players who play in clown suits and grease paint. They're coming here to entertain Marion baseball fans and give them an exhibition of real ball playing during the process.

This group of men have been "clowning" their way to victory over some of the greatest semi-pro teams in the country and a few weeks ago cleaned up on the Lansing Olds, 11 to 5. Last week, the Clowns met a 6 to 5 defeat at the hands of the General Tires of Akron, hailed as probably the greatest of all semi-pro clubs in northern Ohio.

Baseball and Buffoonery

The Clowns present baseball and buffoonery at their best. They are crack baseball players as well as professional comedians. Their antics, tricks, juggling, and general tomfoolery will entertain the whole family. In fact, it's a group of baseball players, composed of nine "Nick Altrocks."

The Marion club will be taking on the best team to appear here so far this season and is preparing for the invasion of the comedians.

Brashears Back

Dick Brashears, who was on the receiving end for Marion last year, will be found in his old position Sunday afternoon, it was announced today. Dick made a great hit with the fans last year and the battery of Main and Brashears

PLAY AMERICAN LEAGUE CONTESTS AT SHOVEL

Tools, Apprentices and Office Are Winners in Loop

Tools defeated Orders, Apprentices won from Foundrymen, and Office defeated Electricians last night in the regular American League games at the Marion Steam Shovel.

With Weiss pitching, the Tools swamped the Orders, 9 to 1, LeMasters and Marshall were the batteries for the Orders.

Apprentices ran up a score of 28 against Foundrymen, while the latter team was counting only six. Ward and Conkle were the winning batteries. Roush pitched for the Foundry.

Leahey was on the mound for the General Office as it romped over the Electricians, 6 to 4, in the best of the three game played last night. Edmonson pitched for the losers.

I'LL BITE—

1. Who was the Marion Country Club golf pro last year?

2. Who preceded Allen "Baldy" Compton as Harding High Basketball coach?

3. What team won the Marion County high school basketball championship last season?

4. Where did Cleveland Indians rank in the American League standing at the close of the 1926 season?

5. How many home runs did Lou Gehrig of the New York Yankees, knock last year?

Last Night's Answers

1. Mansfield High.
2. 15 days.
3. Frankie Frisch and Jimmy Ring.
4. Louisville.
5. George Burns of the Cleveland Indians.

OFFICIALS TRY TO FIND SOURCE OF SMALLPOX

City Health Commissioner Makes Report to Board at Meeting

Two cases of smallpox, the first to come to the attention of city health authorities for more than a year, were reported by Health Commissioner Dr. W. J. Weiser, at the monthly meeting of the board of health held in the office of the health department, yesterday afternoon.

Both the husband and wife in the family of J. H. Erwin, Rose-av., are afflicted with the disease, Dr. Weiser said. The source of the disease is a mystery as no member of the family, according to their story to Dr. Weiser and Sanitary Officer Charles Tobin, who placed them under quarantine yesterday afternoon, had been out of the city for a long time. Other members of the family were immediately vaccinated and every precaution taken to prevent a spread of the disease.

Cites Pasteurization

Two cases of scarlet fever and one of whooping cough, the only contagious diseases reported during the month of May, also was contained in the health commissioner's report.

The importance of the pasteurizing of milk was emphasized by the health commissioner in citing the typhoid fever epidemic at Wellington, a report of which was given by Dr. O. C. Riggin of Oberlin at the recent meeting of the Ohio State Medical Association at Columbus and which was attended by Dr. Weiser.

There were 157 cases with 14 deaths all of which was traced directly to a dairy farmer who was delivering milk to a retailer in a raw state and distributed to people in a certain section of the town.

This man had had typhoid fever 22 years before and it was found that he was an intermittent carrier, only giving off the germs occasionally. Pasteurization would have prevented the epidemic the doctor said.

Dr. Weiser also reported the examination of 33 children for the Kiwanis Fresh Air camp and the vaccination of 26. An all school clinic under the auspices of the parent teachers association held on May 19 and 20 when approximately 300 children were examined and five day pre-school clinic starting May 23 in which between 400 and 500 children are examined, was reported among the May activities by the health commissioner.

FREE BIBLE LECTURE

SUBJECT

"Things the Clergy Never Tell"

The most momentous events of earth's history is the near establishment of God's kingdom among men; but, strange to say, this dominating theme of the Bible has been entirely neglected by the clergy. Every one of the inspired writers testified concerning a time of everlasting happiness for the human race. Jesus and his apostles preached that this gospel of blessing is for the vast majority; not a message of woe for all except a few.

Where is the rational human being who has not often wished that things were different—who does not long for peace, happiness, freedom from pain and sorrow?

Kills Pesky Ants, Roaches and Bed-Bugs

Just pour a little P.D.Q. wherever there are bed-bugs, roaches or ants. See how quickly they die. This marvelous chemical discovery can do no damage to your garments or furniture; will not rot or stain clothing. P.D.Q. is used and endorsed by leading hotels, hospitals and railroads on the quickest and surest way of ridding the of pesky insects. Instantly it smothers and kills the living creatures, eggs and all. And a few drops, placed in cracks and crevices, drive away flies, mosquitoes and other insects. By actual test, a 25c bottle of P.D.Q. will kill a million insects. P.D.Q. can also be used to sterilize utensils, fresh milk—really like this. Five pounds spread countless days. Insist on P.D.Q. at your druggist's today. If he cannot supply you, send 25c and a dollar bill for a large bottle of this magic and we will guess thereafter.

The Adventure Called Life

THE fiction writer would have us believe that real life is a colorless, hum-drum affair. So he attempts to improve on reality by creating characters and situations out of his fanciful mind.

But it is the adventure of life itself that claims our deepest interest. We are fascinated by what our neighbors are thinking and doing. Their hopes, fears, joys, sorrows, temptations and struggles are much like our own, and are therefore of immediate and vital concern.

That is why the personal narratives of human experience which appear in True Story Magazine have such a widespread and ever-growing appeal. For example, there are 16 thrilling features in the July issue. Your newsdealer has it. Get your copy today!

we came to Sand Mountain,
anted me to make one jump
so I went up and done a
and landed on my chest on soft sand and slid and rolled the rest of the ways to the bottom, and then that was so much fun that I done it a lot of times, and then I waved at them and went, and when I got around the corner of the warehouse at Burton and the tracks me and Jubilee turned and went to Younisses to get an eye full of her to take with us, and Younisses mother asted me where we went yesterday and I thought she had found out about the fire so I asted her why, and she said she had to wash Younisa all over with Cashmere soap and perfumigate her clothes. A girl's mother is more particular than a fella's. I guess that under the stink factory is not any place for a girl.

She put up a holler

When I left Younisses I was hungry and me and Jubilee went in the Chatham street alley to eat our sandwitch and it was full of sand, so I couldn't run away after all. The bunch will be supprised to see me in the morning.

it already he and the Boy,
lowed his directions and stayed close behind him, were some distance down, and with the Mole's last words a bit of the carelessly tossed earth came tumbling and closed up the entrance to the tunnel. Now it was almost dark.

"It is getting so close in here I can scarcely breathe," murmured the Boy. "I don't see how you stand it underground day after day, night after night. "I should think you would smother. I am sure I shall. Oh, I must get out of here! I feel as if there was a ton of dirt on my chest. How damp and how gloomy it is, too! I don't like it one bit. Oh, but I wish I had never come! Tell me, Matty, shall I ever get out of here alive? If only I thought I could shove my way back to the surface I believe I should start up at once."

"You are frightened, that is what is the matter with you," declared the Mole. "You needn't worry, though. If you do as I say nothing will happen to you. This is the worst—soon we will come to the Broad Highway. Here it is narrow, but there there is plenty of room for two Moles to pass. Keep up your courage and you will enjoy the sights of Moleland. As for your return journey—you'll not mind that at all. You'll come back on a beaten track. Every one gets cold feet when he comes underground for the first time, but it will not be long before you get used to the damp and the dark."

Aching, Swollen Feet

Money Back Says Heuney & Cooper. Bradley Drug Store. If Emerald Oil Doesn't Do away With All Soreness, Swelling and Distress in 24 Hours.

No sensible person will continue to suffer from those intense agonizing throbbing foot pains when every well stocked drug store has Moone's Emerald Oil and sells it with an absolute guarantee of satisfacion or money back.

Your feet may be so swollen and inflamed that you think you can't go another step. Your shoes may feel as if they are cutting right into the flesh. You feel sick all over with the pain and torture and pray for quick relief. What's to be done?

Two or three applicaions of Moone's Emerald Oil and in fifteen minutes the pain and soreness disappears. A few more applications at regular interrals and the swelling reduces.

And best of all any offensive odor is gone for good — it's a wonderful formula—this combination of essential oils with camphor and other antiseptics so marvelous that thousands of bottles are sold annually for reducng varicose or swollen veins.

Heuney & Cooper, Bradley Drug Store and every good druggist guarantees Moone's Emerald Oil to end your foot troubles or money back.—Adv.

LaRue, June 9—Funeral services were held at the M. E. Church here Tuesday afternoon for Mrs. Ira Carter, 50, resident of south of here who died at her home Sunday of complications.

Mrs. Carter had been ill for the past eight weeks. She had been brought to her home Friday after taking a series of treatment for three weeks at Marion. Rev. Clutter officiated at the funeral services.

Surviving Mrs. Carter are her husband, four children, Mrs. Bernard Wright, LaRue, Ethel, Harry and Robert at home, her mother, Mrs. Mary C. Moore, Kenton, three sisters, Mrs. Minnie Thompson, Kenton, Mrs. M. P. Bonham, Forest-st, Marion, Mrs. Bessie Drumm, LaRue and one brother, J. O. Moore, Mt. Victory.

LEGAL NOTICE

In the Probate Court of Marion County, Ohio, Case No. 9653, Callie Himmeger, Executrix of the Last Will and Testament of William A. Himmeger, deceased, Plaintiff, vs. Callie Himmeger, widow of William A. Himmeger, deceased, James W. Himmeger, Emma V. Himmeger; Daisy White; Samuel White; Joseph White; Sarah White; David White; Carrie White; Naomi White, Dorothy White, John White; Rosetta White, and William Himmeger, Defendants.

David White, whose residence is unknown, will take notice that Callie Himmeger, Executrix of the Last Will and Testament of William A. Himmeger, deceased, on the 25th day of April, 1927, filed her petition in the Probate Court of Marion County, Ohio, alleging that the personal estate of said decedent is insufficient to pay his debts and the charges of administrating his estate; that he died seized in fee simple of the following described real estate, to-wit:

Situated in the City of Marion, County of Marion, State of Ohio, and being part of lot No. ten (10) in John Ballentine's First Addation to the City of Marion, Ohio, and being twenty-six (26) feet off the north side of the following described real estate

Beginning at a point in the west line of said lot No. 10, at the southwest corner of a tract owned by Cleo E McLaughlin; thence east on the south line of said McLaughlin tract on a line parallel with the north line of said lot No. 10 to a point in the east line of said lot No 10, thence south on the east line of lot No. 10 fifty-three and one-half (53½) feet to a point in the east line of said lot No 10, thence west on a line parallel with the north line of said lot No. 10 to a point in the west line of lot No 10, which point is fifty-three and one-half (53½) feet south of the place of beginning, thence north on the west line of lot No. 10 fifty-three and one-half (53½) feet to the plane of beginning.

Also, situated in the City of Marion, County of Marion and State of Ohio, and being part of lot No. ten (10) in John Ballentine's First Addition to the City of Marion, Ohio, and bounded and described as follows:

Beginning at a point in the west line of said lot No. 10, at the southwest corner of a tract owned by Cleo E McLaughlin; thence east on the south line of said McLaughlin tract on a line parallel with the north line of said lot No 10 to a point in the east line of said lot No 10, thence south on the east line of lot No. 10 fifty-three and one-half (53½) feet to a point in the east line of said lot No 10, thence west on a line parallel with the north line of said lot No. 10 to a point in the west line of lot No. 10, which point is fifty-three and one-half (53½) feet south of the place of beginning; thence north on the west line of lot No. 10 fifty-three and one-half (53½) feet to the place of beginning. Excepting therefrom twenty-six (26) feet off of the north side thereof:

That Callie Himmeger the widow of said decedent, is entitled to dower in said real estate. The prayer of the petition is that said property may be sold to pay the debts and charges aforesaid. The defendant, David White, is hereby notified that he has been made party defendant to said petition, and that he is required to answer the same on or before the 16th day of July, 1927.

CALLIE HIMMEGER.
Executrix of the last will and testament of William A Himmeger, deceased

LEGAL NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that sealed proposals will be received at the office of the County Commissioners of Marion County, Ohio, in Marion, Ohio, until Friday, June 17, 1927, at twelve o'clock noon, Central Standard Time (which is one o'clock P. M. Eastern or local time), for furnishing all the material and performing all the labor required for construction of the following described improvements, in accordance with the plans and specifications therefor on file in the office of said Board of Commissioners, and at the office of J. Lewis Ellis, Architect, 146 W. Center St., Marion, Ohio:

PROPOSAL No. 1 For the construction of a law library and alterations to the Marion County Court Room and for all labor and material required for the same, including lumber and mill work, carpenter work, masonry, structural steel, lath and plastering, hardware, electrical work and plumbing and heating.

Estimated cost of this improvement —$6,000.00.

Date for commencement work by June 23, 1927.

Date for completion of work—September 1, 1927.

PROPOSAL No. 2. For the painting and decorating required for alterations for the Marion County Court Room and for all labor and material required for the same.

Estimated cost of this improvement—$1,600.00.

Date for commencement of work by August 1, 1927.

Date for completion of work—September 1, 1927.

Bidders are requested to be present at the above named time and place where all proposals will be publicly opened, read and examined and an award made at that time or at such time to which consideration of said bids may be duly adjourned, as provided by law.

Each bid must be accompanied by cash or certified check on some solvent bank in an amount equal to ten per cent of the estimated cost of the improvement, made payable to the order of the Commissioners of Marion County, for the benefit of said County, which will be forfeited by the successful bidders in case they fail to enter into a contract and bond within five days from the date of award of contract.

The successful bidders will be required to give bond in an amount equal to one-half the estimated cost of the improvement with two sureties or a surety company to the approval and satisfaction of the said Board of Commissioners for the proper construction and completion of the work.

Contractors will be required to give previous experience and the amount and size of equipment.

Bids to be signed by all parties interested in the contract.

By order of the Board of Commissioners of Marion County, Ohio, dated May 16, 1927.

T. A. O'LEARY.
Clerk of Board.

NORTHERNERS DRIVEN BACK BY SOUTHERNERS

U. S. Cruiser Marblehead Leaves Shanghai Today for Chingwantao

Shanghai, June 9—The United States light cruiser Marblehead left today for Chingwantao.

Advices from Suchow state that the Northerners have been driven back, still fighting desperately, following a violent struggle with the Cantonese along the banks of the Grand Canal. The Northern forces retired towards Linching fighting rearguard engagements in an effort to stem the Southerners' advance.

The Nationalists are reported to be planning a triple attack against Shantung.

According to the southern military chiefs, Gen Chang Tsung Chang is removing his headquarters from Tsinanfu to Tientsin because of the Southerners' advance.

Gen Chiang Kai Shek is transferring troops from Nanking for a drive against the Northerners holding Shantung.

MAY SELL MONOPOLY

Paris, June 9—Premier Poincare today urged the chamber of deputies to accept the project for giving the French match monopoly to a Swedish firm for $80,000,000, so that France might have some available cash when discussions of the American debt are resumed.

Possession of $80,000,000 would permit France to re-open the debt negotiations and to enter into discussions "advantageously and freely," the premier said.

"The experts advised us to sign the Mellon-Berenger accord in order to obtain credits in America," he continued. "But parliament hasn't ratified that agreement and doesn't seem disposed to do so."

Program for Marion County Chautauqua is Announced

FIVE DAYS OF ATTRACTIONS ARE ARRANGED

Will Open July 28; Rev. H. F. Weckmueller Named Manager This Year

With five full days of entertainment booked and a sacred program on Sunday Marion County Chautauqua Association officials are looking forward to one of the most successful programs ever presented here. It is scheduled to open July 28 and close Aug. 2.

Rev. Herbert F. Weckmueller, pastor of First Reformed Church, has been named manager for this year's program, succeeding Rev. Paul R. Clouser, Carey, who had charge of arrangements during the last two years.

Officers of the association are John H. Clark, president; Mrs. John Oborn, secretary, and Stewart G. Glaesner, treasurer. Committee chairmen include L. F. Uncapher, grounds; Mr. Glaesner, tickets; Mrs. Oborn, decorations and Mr. Clark, reception.

Elsie Baker on Program

The headline attraction on this year's program will be the group of vocal numbers to be presented by Elsie Baker, noted singer. Several outstanding musical organizations also will appear on this year's bill.

Concerts by the Apollo Choir, a well-known organization, will open the program Thursday afternoon, July 28. A similar concert will be given at night with Robert H. Manlove, known as "the man of many faces," as an added attraction.

Two numbers are scheduled on the program for Friday afternoon, John E. Beckewetz, cartoonist, and a lecture by Dr. Ewert, Chicago. The program at night will be presented by Elsie Baker.

For Saturday the Chautauqua association has booked the Howard Orchestra Quintet and Judge George D. Alden, noted Missouri jurist. The orchestra will furnish the program in the afternoon and will share the program at night with the speaker.

Rev. C. L. Allen Chairman

The sacred services on Sunday will be furnished under the direction of the Marion County Ministerial Association. Rev. C. L. Allen, pastor of Calvary Evangelical Church, is chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements for the Sunday program.

On Monday the National Light Opera Co. will furnish program, both afternoon and night, presenting a light opera, "The Mascot," at night.

Four numbers appear on the program for the closing day. The Southard Artists Duo is booked to open the afternoon and night programs. Following the musical program in the afternoon Chancellor George W. Bradford, noted lecturer, will speak on "This Way Up," and after the musical program at night De Jen & Co. will furnish an hour's entertainment.

Innocence inspires our affection but it doesn't inspire our confidence, as ability does.

LITTLE OHIO GIRL KIDNAPED BY FATHER BECOMES FAMOUS RIDER WITH CIRCUS

About 25 years ago the city of Steubenville was shocked when news broke out that the father of a little girl had the audacity to come to Steubenville and kidnap his own daughter from her mother from whom he was separated.

"She'll never amount to much without a mother's training," people were wont to say.

No trace was found of the girl, then only five years old, and it was not until several years later that Steubenville residents learned that the child was growing into womanhood and "amounting to much," and later when they learned that she had won signal honors in a field unknown to Ohio, they reversed their opinions.

The girl is Lulu Parr, woman ex-champion broncho-buster and bucking horse rider, who will be seen with the Hagenbeck-Wallace Circus wild west show Monday afternoon and night on Drake lot.

Family troubles forced Lulu's parents to separate, and her mother took the child with her. Lulu was just a wee tot when the dissention occurred and knew nothing about the rift.

Then, one day, a stranger came to Steubenville. Stealthily he approached the Myers home, snatched up the little girl and vanished. It was her father.

No one knew where he had taken her and the search for father and daughter was in vain. Becoming a famous rider she has been widely acclaimed.

She was induced to join the Hagenbeck-Wallace Circus as one of the features of the wild west show which is given at the close of the trained wild animal and hippodrome shows, that is, the big circus. And today she is in the atmosphere in which she has lived since she was kidnaped when she was five year old, among cowboys, cowgirls, Indian chiefs and their squaws, and bucking horses.

LEGION OPENS OFFICE TO AID WAR VETERANS

Local Post Urges Conversion of Insurance; Picnic at Xenia Planned

As a means of aiding ex-service men in the taking out of government insurance or converting their present insurance into any one of the seven policies now being sold by the government, Bird-McGinnis Post, No. 102, American Legion, will open an office in the room formerly occupied by the Western Union Telegraph Co. in E. Center-st, it was announced today by Don Jones, commander of the local legion.

Decision to open an office was reached at a meeting of the Legion held last night when the importance of giving this service in order that all ex-service men may taken advantage of the insurance before July 2, fixed by the government as the closing day, became apparent.

The office will be open until July 2 and an experienced insurance man will be at the office from 7 to 9 o'clock each night for the purpose of explaining the different forms of government insurance to any who might be interested and also to assist in filling out blanks either for new policies or converting term policies.

Seven Policies Offered

"The Underwriters' Association of Marion deserves much credit for making this service to all ex-service men possible," Commander Jones said, "and we do not want any man to say after July 2 that he did not have an opportunity to take advantage of the government's offer, and it is our desire to make it as easy for him and be of service to the community."

The seven policies offered by the government are: ordinary life; 20-payment life; 30-payment life; 20-year endowment; 30-year endowment; endowment at age of 62 and five-year convertible term policies. Inducements held out to the ex-service men by the legion are that the insurance is cheaper than any other, that total permanent benefits are included without additional charge, that it has been indorsed by the Association of Life Insurance Presidents, that there are no restrictions for hazardous occupations, that converted policies pay dividends after the first year and that at the age of 30, $1,000 insurance can be carried for 5 cents a day.

Picnic at Home

Plans also were completed by the legion at their meeting last night, for the picnic to be given the children at the Xenia Soldiers and Sailors home on Sunday, June 19. Members of the legion and 40 and 8, women of the auxiliary and Spanish-American War Veterans all of whom are included in the party, will leave the city lot at the intersection of Church and Prospect-sts at 8 o'clock with baskets for their own parties and enough extra for about six children. It is estimated that 150 children between three and seven years of age will attend the picnic. The legion also is asking that toys and books be taken.

In an effort to boost the membership of the local post before June 15, as that date determines the standing of the post at both the Canton convention and Paris international convention, the legion last night voted to reduce the dues for the balance of this year to $2.25, providing the new member signs a pledge to pay 1928 dues on or before Jan. 31, 1928.

PROSPECT TROOP WINS BOY SCOUT FIELD MEET

Scores 20 Points More Than Nearest Competitor at Camp Owens

Troop 7 of Prospect won the Heep Wah Boy Scout field meet held yesterday at Camp John A. Owens, when it scored 20 points more than its nearest competitor. Troop 2 of Marion and Troop 3 of this city were second and third respectively.

One hundred and twenty scouts took part in the annual event which the Prospect troop won with 141 points. Second place was taken with 121 points and Troop 3 scored 114 for third position.

The tent pitching contest was won by Troops 1 and 3 of Marion. Troop 7 of Prospect then broke into the scoring columns by making 100 in attendance. Scouts Gutherie and Hamilton of Marion Troop 3 won the first aid race. In knot tying, Troop 1 won both first and third in 35 seconds.

Judging of distances went to Troop 7 and Troop 6 won the scout pace relay with a near perfect score making the mile in 11 minutes and 58 seconds. Troop 2 turned in a perfect message in signalling and had no competitors. Scoring for the Heep Wah banner ended with the string burning race which was won by Walker and Schlagle of Troop 6.

Dorsey of Troop 1 defended his medal successfully in the fire by friction race when Newby failed to equal the record for Troop 5.

Nervous Folks Need This New Discovery

Bradley's Drug Store Offers Lifetone Tablets to Build Up "Shot to Pieces" Nerves or Money Back.

Knowing that your unhappy condition is caused by nerves you can't control what are you going to do about it?

Are you going around with that depressed and gloomy look, avoiding contact with friends; letting the world know that nervousness is getting the best of you—is robbing you of your health—your energy—your vitality?

Or are you going to do something to get rid of this nervous condition? Have you "lost your nerve" entirely, or are you going to look the facts in the face and start today to become a real energetic useful man again?

No matter what put you in such a nervous condition, remember that Lifetone Tablets are compounded for the sole purpose of helping nervous men and women and if for any reason they do not help you to get rid of all nervousness and at the same time cause you to grow more vigorous in body and keener in mind,—Bradley's Drug Store or any live wire druggist anywhere will gladly return the purchase price.

Seventy-two tablets for $1.00—not much to pay for steady nerves and bright eyes and a buoyant feeling all day long.—Adv.
